Gen'l James A Beaver Mch 11

THE REPUBLICAN.

Established 1869. BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1911. Vol. 41. No. 14.

Delige to Hang Tues., April 25th

Governor Tener Signs Death Warrant Fixing Date for Execution of Murderer of Mrs. John Baudis, of Scotia--Execution will Take Place in Jail Yard and be Strictly Private.

Governor Tener yesterday signed the death warrant for Bert Delige, fixing Tuesday, April 25, as the date for the execution. On that day Delige will pay the penalty for the brutal murder of Mrs. John Baudis, of Scotia.

Delige will be hanged on that day in the yard of the county jail. It rests with Sheriff Hurley to fix the exact hour for the execution, although it will take place during the morning of the 25th.

The public will be excluded from the execution. Sheriff Hurley announces that it will be useless to make application for tickets of admission, as the same will positively not be issued. Since the trial of Delige, last December, Sheriff Hurley has been swamped with applications for tickets of admission to the hanging. All have been courteously but firmly refused.

It will also be useless for the public to try and gain admission to the jail to see Delige between now and the date for the execution. It is Sheriff Hurley's determination to protect the condemned man from the gaze of curious visitors and to make the execution strictly private.

Delige thus has but 62 days to live. He spends his time in his cell, under [illegible] day and night, apparently unconcerned and in the best of spirits. He laughs and jokes with his guards and the several jail officials. He continues to be the only prisoner in the jail. His most frequent visitor is Rev. P. E. Paul, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church. It was Mr. Paul who induced Delige to profess Christianity and make a complete confession of his murdering Mrs. Baudis, last October.

Since his trial, conviction and sentence Delige has devoted his time in jail to reading his Bible, to prayer and conversing with the prison officials. His crime, for which he now must give up his life, is seldom referred to by the prisoner. On all other subjects he converses freely.

The fixing of the date for Delige's execution will necessitate no change in Sheriff Hurley's plans for guarding the condemned man These plans for preventing the prisoner's escape or any attempt he might make to committ suicide, are as nearly perfect as could be. Day and night Delige is closely guarded by Joshua Folk and Thomas Fleming, the latter going on duty on Monday, last, and taking the place of John Trafford, who has gone to Savannah, Georgia. One guard remains on duty during the day and the second guard relieves him during the night. Delige is confined in a steel cell. The guard over him is seated in a chair in the upper floor, directly in front of where Delige is confined. The guard is thus in position to see every move and hear every word spoken by the prisoner. From the day of his arrest down to the present Delige has been a model prisoner. He gives his keepers no trouble, has few wants and appears resigned to his fate.

While anticipating no trouble, Sheriff Hurley will instruct the guards and jail attendants to be on the alert every minute to see that nothing goes wrong to interfere with carrying out the mandate of the law. Although it is an unpleasant duty to perform, Sheriff Hurley says that he is prepared to hang Delige on the day fixed by the Governor. The gallows, which will be used for the execution, are stored at the jail. They will not be erected until several days in advance of the hanging. Before being used to hang Delige the gallows will be altered to provide for the execution of but one person. When last used the gallows were readjusted to hang two persons at one time, this being the case when Green and Dillen were executed Before Delige is taken out to be hanged the gallows will be altered and thoroughly tested. Everything will be done to guard against any hitch in the plans on the day of the execution and with the object in view of closing the unhappy incident as quickly as possible.

It is barely possible that the execution of Delige will mark the last hanging of a murderer in Centre County. A bill is now before the Legislature providing for electrocution of all murderers in Pennsylvania at one of the larger prisons in the State. Should this be passed and signed by the Governor, a person charged with murder would be tried and, if convicted, sentenced in the same manner as at present. On the day before the time fixed for the execution, however, the condemned person would be removed to the prison equipped with the electric chair and there put to death. Such a plan eliminates the present opportunity for display and the exhibition of morbid curiosity on the part of the public. Electrocution is the method of execution in New York and a number of other States.

While Delige was convicted during the term of Governor Stuart the signing of the death warrant was left to Governor Tener, The law fixes no definite period in which the Governor must sign such a warrant. In the present case Governor Tener withheld attaching his signature to the Delige death warrant for a reasonable time, it being customary to afford ample opportunity to the condemned person, his friends or counsel, to take any steps desired for a new trial. The object in allowing the Governor discretion in the matter is to give the condemned person every benefit of doubt that may exist or develop after his trial and conviction. This was the course pursued by Governor Tener. He is to be commended for acting without unseemly haste and at the same time preventing unnecessary delay and cost to the county. It is expected that counsel for Delige will make no effort to have a new trial or to ask the Board of Pardons to intervene and that the execution will take place on the day fixed by the Governor, April 25.

17-Year Locusts.

State Zoologist Surface predicts an early invasion of 17-year-old locusts in Lancaster, York, Dauphin, Chester, Montgomery, Bucks, Lebanon, Berks and Lehigh counties. The locusts appeared in the district covered by these several counties seventeen years ago. They also appeared in 1902 and 1905, although not in any great number. Professor Surface urges that persons in the counties in question intending to plant trees should not do so until June, and also that trees on lands so invaded should not be pruned until summer.

Local Option Negatived.

The House Law and Order Committee of the Pennsylvania Legislature on Tuesday reported the local option bill with a negative recommendation. The vote in the committee on the bill was 7 for and 11 against. The matter will be brought before the House by means of a motion to place it on the calendar despite the recommendation of the committee. This will necessitate every member of the House going on record for or against the bill.

For Destitute Veterans.

Senator Joseph Alexander, who represents the Centre-Clearfield district, on Monday last introduced into the Legislature a bill providing State pensions of from $8 to $15 a month for destitute veterans of the Civil war, and providing for the appointment of a commission to carry out the provisions of the proposed act. Aid for the defenders of our flag, regardless of the source from which it comes, is always to be commended.

Witmer Named as Judge.

President Taft on Monday appointed Charles B. Witmer, of Sunbury, Judge of the Federal Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Archbald when the latter became a Judge of the newly created Commerce Court. For a number of years Mr. Witmer served as United States District Attorney for the district in which his court is located.

The Republican," $1 a year in advance.

STATE COLLEGE LEADS IN 1910 CENSUS GAINS

Heads List of Centre County Towns in Increases Over 1900.

BELLEFONTE HAS 4145

County Seat Shows Slight Falling Off—Philipsburg, Howard and Millheim Gain While Milesburg and Centre Hall Drop Back.

Considerable surprise and no little disappointment attended the receipt of the news on Saturday last that the census of 1910 showed the population of Bellefonte to be but 4145, a loss of 71 as compared with the population given in the census of 1900. The first news received was contained in a special despatch to "The Republican" from the Census Bureau, at Washington, D. C. So many persons were disposed to doubt the accuracy of the figures that "The Republican" asked for a verification in order that any error in transmission of the figures might be detected and corrected by the Census Bureau. To this we received prompt confirmation of the first figures as given in the special despatch to this newspaper.

"The Republican" has also secured from the Census Bureau the official figures of the population for 1910 of a number of other towns in Centre County. These include Philipsburg, State College, Howard, Centre Hall, Millheim and Milesburg. Of this group Philipsburg, State College, Howard and Millheim show an increase in population over 1900. State College heads this list of towns showing an increase, having 1425 population in 1910 as compared with 851 in 1900, a gain of 574. Centre Hall and Milesburg, like Bellefonte, show a slight loss.

While Millheim shows a gain of 14 over the census of 1900, it also shows a loss of 71 as compared with the population given in the census for 1890. Milesburg not only shows a loss of 63 as compared with the 1900 census, but a loss of 183 since the census of 1890. Bellefonte shows a gain of 199 since the 1890 census, the population in that year being given as 3946.

Ever since the taking of the 1910 census was completed it seemed to be the general belief that the population of Bellefonte would be somewhere between 4700 and 4800. That it was below the 5,000 mark was made known several months ago when the Census Bureau made public a list of towns whose population ranged between 5,000 and 10,000. Bellefonte did not appear in that list, and while this occasioned some disappointment it was quickly followed by a rumor widely circulated and generally accepted as well-founded, that the official figures would be something over 4700, making a substantial gain over the census of ten years ago. Hence the pronounced disappointment when it was announced that the official figures gave Bellefonte a population of but 4145.

The official census figures show the following gains and losses in population in the last ten years:

Increase Over 1900
State College	574
Philipsburg	319
Howard	114
Millheim	14
Decrease Since 1900
Bellefonte	71
Milesburg	63
Centre Hall	39

Whether any error exists in the tabulation of the census figures is a matter of much speculation. Many persons in town, business men and others, refuse to accept the official figures as being correct. They flatly assert that the population of Bellefonte is several hundred in excess of 4145. In support of this they point to the fact that in the last ten years eighty or more houses have been erected within the borough limits and are occupied at the present time. To this they add that there are no empty houses in town; that such industries as are in Bellefonte were in full operation when the census was taken, and that the losses by deaths and removals have been balanced, if not overbalanced, by the arriv l of others and their location here. To this is also added the statement that the canvass made by a committe of citizens several years ago, interested in establishing a fraternal lodge in Bellefonte, showed that the population of the borough was in reality between 5100 and 5200.

So strong is the dissatisfaction over the Census Bureau figures among some citizens that there is talk of asking a recanvass of the borough. Whether this will end in a formal application to the Census Bureau remains to be seen.

Population of Centre County Towns for 1910.

	1910.	1900.	1890.
Bellefonte	4145	4216	3946
Philipsburg	3585	3266	3245
*State College	1425	851	...
Howard	667	563	554
Centre Hall	500	537	441
Millheim	626	612	700
Milesburg	581	594	714

*State College borough was organized from College township after taking of 1890 census.

Fire at Axe Mann.

On Friday night, about 1.30 o'clock, the dwelling house at Axe Mann, owned and occupied by David Sholley and family, caught fire and burned to the ground. Nothing was saved of the household goods except a wash stand and a sewing machine. It probably was the result of a defective flue.

While lying in bed Mr. Sholley detected smoke and on getting up to make an investigation he found the fire coming through the floor. He had barely time to arouse the family who made a hasty exit, hardly having enough clothing on to shelter them from the cold. The loss is about $2000. Insurance $1200. Mr. Sholley's family is now staying with his son, Miller Sholley, at Prossertown.

Farmer Roasted Alive.

Robert Pinske, aged 45 years, a German farmer residing at Eldora, Iowa, in which State a number of former Centre Countians now live, was burned to death under peculiar circumstances on Monday. He was driving to his home when a bottle of alcohol, in one of his pockets, became ignited and set fire to his clothing. The man and his buggy were soon in flames and before help could arrive Pinske was burned to death.

Cash for Advertising.

The United States Supreme Court this week handed down a decision to the effect that railroad companies must pay advertising bills in cash and not in transportation.

Try Welch's grape juice—at Green's.

Two Splendid Addresses.

On Monday evening an elaborate feast of good things was served in the lecture room of the Bellefonte Methodist Episcopal church. There were present a large number of men from other denominations. The principal speakers of the evening were Dr. Batstone and Dr. Headland, who told of the wonderful work going on the mission fields of India and China. Both gentlemen are interesting speakers. So intensely thrilling were some of the stories told that time passed only too quickly. Dr. Headland spoke of the great difference between China of twenty years ago and China today, all on account of the Gospel of Christ having reached the people there. Dr. Balston has been in India 18 years and Dr. Headland has been in China 20 years. They are now making a tour of the Methodist Episcopal churches to arouse interest in the cause of missions. The reception and luncheon was presided over by Rev. C. C. Shuey, assisted by Dr. Wilcox.

Hospital Notes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Culp, Bellefonte; operation.

Mrs. William Doll, Bellefonte; operation.

Mrs. Mary Blair, Tyrone; operation.

William Hoffman, Pleasant Gap; operation.

James Bassett, Bellefonte Academy; operation.

Mrs. Mary Campbell, Julian; admitted for treatment.

Following patients discharged: Miss Mary Hoy, Waddle; John Royer, White Rock; Amanda Emel, Bellefonte.

There are 22 patients in the hospital.

REV. P. E. PAUL TELLS OF HIS TRIP TO TRINIDAD

A. M. E. Pastor Makes First Visit Home in Fourteen Years.

GREAT SEA OF ASPHALT

Interesting Narrative of People and Customs of the Island—Trinidad Has Modern Buildings, Paved Streets and Electric Cars.

On Tuesday evening a representative of "The Republican" called at the cosy little parsonage of the African Methodist Episcopal church, in Bellefonte, located on East Lamb Street. We were cordially welcomed into the home by Mrs. Paul, wife of Rev. P. E. Paul, the efficient pastor of the local church. Here we found everything conducive to happiness. In the parlor was a handsome upright piano, the keys of which are expertly manipulated by Mrs. Paul. A congeniality pervaded the atmosphere in this home that the stranger within their gates could not but notice.

Finally the conversation drifted on to the tour which Rev. Paul took to his home in the Trinidad Island, only a short distance from the mouth of the Orinoco River, South America., Just about two months ago Rev. Paul was called unexpectedly to his old home by the death of his aged mother, and while on the sea his brother died, thus he was very much disappointed when he reached his destination, which took seventeen days from the time he left the New York harbor. This delay was due to the fact that he was on a cargo vessel, which stopped at the islands all along the route to either take on or leave freight or passengers. The weather was fine, and all nature seemed to be in harmony with a successful trip.

"Trinidid" is a metropolitan city, of large population, and to convince us of [illegible] kind enough to show us some pictures which the former had taken while there. This was the first time in fourteen years he had visited the scenes of his boyhood days, and of course he found many changes. These pictures are highly treasured by Mr. Paul, because they give an accurate idea of the wonderful progress being made in the West Indies. The streets of the city are paved with brick. The electric spark chases away the darkness of the night, and the people are conveyed from one part of the city to another in electric cars of the most modern type. The goverment and city buildings are built of brick, the architecture of which is equal to that found in large, well regulated American cities. The City Hall of Trinidad is built of the same kind of brick that makes the new Bellefonte High school appear so attractive. Beautiful parks adorn the city and sweet scented flowers perfume the air.

The cemeteries are beautiful, with large gravel walks, high towering palm trees, and finely glazed monuments of granite and marble. Judging from the picture of the cemetery the inhabitants of that far-off island could give valuable instruction to Americans as to keeping in repair and beautifying their cities of the dead.

As we conversed with Mr. Paul we asked what the people did to make a living. To give us a practical answer Mrs. Paul showed us mats made from different colored berries. They are carefully suspended on a string when green and worked up into different figures and shapes. When dry they become as hard as ivory and present a beautiful appearance. They are very pretty and are in great demand. Then we were shown the nutmeg, vanilla bean and the shaddock, which corresponds with our grapefruit, but are somewhat larger, and have a more delicious flavor. These all have an extensive sale in our eastern markets, thus giving employment to thousands of men, women, and children.

When asked what the people of Trinidid subsisted upon, Rev. Paul showed us what is known as edible sea moss. It is found in large quantities in the sea. It is gathered and prepared to eat in many different ways It can be used as a sauce or like mashed potatoes, or it may be ground into flour or meal from which bread is made. When taken from the water it is soft but dries very quickly when out of the water. They have berries, fish and meats from animals found in that climate.

The wonder of these islands is the sea of asphaltum which covers an area of 2700 square miles. It is said that this is the only place in the world where this enormous quantity of natural asphaltum

(Continued on fourth page)

DEDICATE COURT HOUSE ON FRIDAY, MAY 19TH

Judge Beaver and Judge Orvis Select this Date for Exercises.

PROMINENT MEN HERE

Interesting Program Planned for Occasion—Handsome Souvenir, Printed at Private Expense, Presented to Each Visitor.

Centre County's remodeled Court House will be rededicated on Friday, May 19. This date was selected by Superior Court Judge James A. Beaver and Judge Ellis L. Orvis and subsequently was approved by County Commissioners Woodring, Zimmerman and Dunlap With the announcement of the date it was also made known that the exercises will positively be held at that time. In other words, the date has been fixed and is not subject to change.

Commissioners Woodring, Zimmerman and Dunlap united in a request that Judge Beaver and Judge Orvis agree to Friday, March 17, as the date for the exercises. This suited Judge Beaver but Judge Orvis explained that it would conflict with other plans he had made. Commissioners Woodring, Zimmerman and Dunlap were especially anxious that a date be selected so as not to interfere with the holding of public sales by farmers throughout the county. They expressed a preference to have the rededication held before the sale period begins, but this was not satisfactory to Judge Orvis, who finally suggested that Friday, May 19. be selected.

In agreeing upon this date Judge Beaver and Judge Orvis said that they were desirous of having a number of distinguished men from other counties present. Beyond the fact that the speakers will include Judges Beaver and Orvis and Representative J. C. Meyer [illegible] prepared. This will be left to a committee.

A handsomely printed program, giving the order of exercises, photographic views of the remodeled Court House, both exterior and interior, and also a brief history of the historic old building, will be published and distributed free on the day of the rededication. The cost of the printing will be paid by numerous business firms and other advertisers. The cost will not fall upon the county. It is planned making the book a handsome souvenir of what will undoubtedly be a most interesting event.

A Day of Great Things.

On Sunday the residents of Bellefonte were greatly favored by having in their midst Bishop Joseph Berry, of Buffalo, N. Y. He is one of the pillars of the Methodist church and a man of wide reputation, thus his presence here was an eventful one. Both morning and evening he occupied Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox's pulpit in the Methodist Episcopal church, preaching to large congregations. His morning discourse was one of the most masterly and scholarly ever delivered in Bellefonte. His object was to disabuse the minds of his hearers that the Bible was not the only thing in life that was mysterious; man is surrounded by mysteries, he said. Even the commonest things in life are shrouded in mystery. The air we breathe, the heat that warms us, the electric spark, the growth of vegetation, are all mysteries, which even the philosopher has failed to solve. Even the old astronomer can take a little child by the hand and gazing up into the fermanent can repeat together, 'Twinkle, twinkle little star, how I wonder what you are.' His address in the evening was on personal work and was productive of great good.

A little coincidence of interest is that on the opposite side of the street, in the Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Fife, of New York, preached a sermon on about the same subject as that of the morning sermon delivered by Bishop Berry. It was unusual that these two great minds should run so closely together. Dr. Fife comes to Bellefonte as a supply, and he will be here throughout February, March and April. He is a strong man and comes here highly recommended. His sermons on Sunday were of the kind that not only are pleasing to the ear but helpful to the heart.

Against Sunday Baseball.

Harrisburg ministerial associations have taken steps to fight the Letzkus bill, introduced into the Legislature, legalizing Sunday baseball. It is expected that the bill will also be opposed by ministerial associations in other parts of the State.

Events Recalled By Quaint Old Papers

Thomas H. Murray, of Clearfield, prominent in the legal, social and political life of Clearfield County, recently delivered an address before the Historical Society of Clearfield on "The Early Bench and Bar of Clearfield County!" While written and delivered chiefly for the people of that County, Mr. Murray's article treats at length on Centre County men and events and is full of reference to Centre Countians prominent in the early part of the century. The early history of Centre and Clearfield Counties is so closely interwoven that it is impossible to discuss the affairs of one without touching upon the other. From the Clearfield "Raftsman's Journal" we reproduce some of Mr. Murray's references to Centre County. He first tells how Clearfield County was laid out in 1804, but owing to the sparse population and relatively small amount of business, the courts for the two Counties continued to be held in Bellefonte until October, 1822. On the 21st of October, of that year, the first court was held in Clearfield and continued two days. At that time Clearfield County had a population of about 600. Nevertheless, the establishing of the new court was attended with no little formality, including the swearing in of twelve lawyers, including John Blanchard, of Bellefonte, and Samuel M. Green, of Milesburg. On the second day of the session Charles Huston, president of the 4th Judicial District, took his seat as president of the court and the first business transacted was the admission of William W. Potter, of Centre County, another attorney, making thirteen in all. Continuing his narrative on the work of the court during that session, Mr. Murray writes as follows:

The only other business that I am able to find was transacted by this pioneer court was the continuance of civil cases of which there were no less than 30 which had been brought to that term, all of them, or nearly all of them, having originated in Centre county at dates varying from 1807 to 1818, and all of them continued from time to time, first in that county and afterwards here to a time subsequent to this session of court and some of them as late as 1828. The nearest approach to a trial of any of them, either there or here, was No. 8, October Term, 1822, in this county, being No. 1, November Term, 1818, in Centre county, the case of David Dunlap vs Robert Maxwell, Burnside for plaintiff, Blanchard, for defendant, continued from time to time in Centre county from 1818 to 1822, and in Clearfield county from 1822 to September Term, 1828, when a jury was actually called, impan[illegible] tember, 1828, and thereupon were withdrawn and a non suit entered, "Judgment, Joseph Boone Prothonotary." This appears to have been the nearest approach to a trial of any of these 30 cases. If they had all been tried there does not seem to have been enough in them to have kept one enterprising attorney going for one third of the time they were pending.

The lawyers who were connected with this first court were not only remarkable for their number but also for the character of them. A very considerable proportion of them were men of great ability and wide reputation. There were three from Centre county, of these Samuel M. Green was a native of Milesburg where he was born in 1797; he, however, settled in this county after his admission to the Bar and was a resident of this place at the time this first court was held and was perhaps of the thirteen the only resident attorney. He came here I think in 1821 and was a resident here when he became Deputy Attorney General. After remaining here for some years he went to Meadville where he practiced actively in his profession and ranked among the leading lawyers of his time.

John Blanchard, also of Centre county, was born in 1787 in Caledonia county, Vermont. He worked on a farm there and taught school until he attained his majority, employing his spare time preparing for Dartmouth College from which he was graduated in 1812; he settled at York, Pennsylvania, shortly after and took up the study of law, supporting himself meantime by teaching; he began practice at Lewistown but in 1815 moved to Bellefonte where he continued to make his home; he was twice elected to Congress, and while serving there his second term was stricken with an illness that proved fatal before he reached his home; he died in 1849. He was a lawyer of high standard and great ability.

William W. Potter, was born about 1791. He was a son of James Potter, a resident of Bellefonte and for many years Associate Judge. He was educated in Dickinson College, studied law under Charles Huston and became one of the leaders of his day both at the bar and in politics, though in a position to secure political preferment he had no desire for office. At one time he refused to accept the office of President Judge and in 1832 declined the nomination for Congress. In 1835, however, he allowed his name to be used and was elected to Congress from this district and re-elected in 1838. His death occurred in the fall of 1839 when he was but 48 years of age and was mourned as a great public loss.

The Judges who conducted the courts of this county up to 1869, which brings the list down to a time within the recollection of most of us, were as follows:

Charles Huston presided here from 1822 to 1826; that year he went on the Supreme Bench; he had been in commission as Common Pleas Judge from 1818 to 1826; his district was the 4th District and by the Act of January, 1822, organizing this county for judical purposes, Clearfield was made a part of the 4th Judicial District. He succeeded Jonothan Walker who was judge of this 4th district up until 1818 when he was appointed First Judge of the United States District Court of the Western District of Pennsylvania. I here digress far enough from my observations on Judge Huston to speak briefly of Judge Walker, his predecessor. He was a graduate of Dickinson College of the class of 1787; (as that college started in 1783 this must have been its first class). In September, 1791, he located in Northumberland and there practiced his profession until 1806, when he was appointed Judge of the 4th District and removed to Bellefonte. While in Northumberland, in 1791 his distinguished son, Robert J. Walker, who afterwards became United States Senator and Secretary of the Treasury under President Polk and later Territorial Governer of Kansas, was born. After living for some years in Bellefonte Governor Snyder proposed to transfer him to the Northumberland District, but he was so popular with the people of the Bellefonte District that the grand jury in a body appealed to him to decline the Governor's proposition. General Benner offered him the money to buy a lot and build any kind of a house he liked. He accepted the General's offer and built, of course, the only kind of a house that was permitted in Bellefonte in those days, a stone house on Allegheny street, afterwards owned by Mrs. John B. Linn, granddaughter of General Benner. This unusual popoularity of Judge Walker may be accounted for by what he said when he left the Common Pleas Court to accept the Federal Judgeship in a letter to the people of the 4th District, written from Bedford, dated 24 July, 1818, he said, "The tie which has bound us together for upwards of 12 years is broken, but the most intimate tie of affection can never be dissolved." After alluring to the many evidences of kindness received at their hands he states some maxims to which he endeavored to conform in his judicial career; one was "to avoid all appearance of evil," for the reason it was my invariable practice to avoid all political association and meetings of every kind and nature. This maxim is considered as important for a Judge as for a minister of the gospel. A party [illegible] that ever fell upon a free people. Public satisfaction cannot be given, nor public confidence inspired. If he were as pure as the ermine of an apostle, his motives would be often suspected, his motions jealously watched, and his most virtuous intentions constantly thwarted. I pity such an unfortunate Judge."

After this digression to resume what is to be said of Charles Huston who succeeded Jonothan Walker as President Judge of the 4th District in which our county was placed by the Act of 1822; that District embraced the Counties of Centre, Bedford, Mifflin, and Huntingdon, and by the Act of 1822 also Clearfield. Judge Huston was born in Plumstead township, Bucks county, January 16, 1771. He graduated at Dickinson College in 1789 with the first honors of his class. There he taught school during the years 1790 and 1791, meanwhile studying law with Thomas Duncan with whom he afterwards sat on the Supreme Bench of Pennsylvania; in 1792 and 1793 he was a tutor of the languages in the college, among his pupils were Roger B. Taney, afterwards Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Taney, in his autobiography, says of Huston: "I need not speak of his character and capacity for he afterwards became one of the first jurists of the country. He was an accomplished Latin and Greek scholar, and happy in his mode of instruction. The whole school under his care was much attached to him."

With his parents he removed to Williamsport and was there admitted to the Bar in August, 1795, the same year Lycoming county was created. His father at the age of 85 and his mother at the age of 77 died there in the year 1824 and are buried in the old Williamsport cemetery. He opened a law office at Jayburg, then the principal town in that county that expected to become the capital. When Williamsport was selected he moved his office there. He found there but three other lawyers. He also early discovered that land titles were in a very unsatisfactory condition. He determined to master the Land Law. To accomplish this he made the acquaintance of men who had been deputy surveyors and particularly among these William McClay, of Harrisburg. He attended the courts in which ejectments were tried. He took down the testimony and every point decided by the opinion of the Judge in his charge to the jury. These notes he digested between the courts, and by this severe method he acquired an unusual knowledge of the land law so that by the year 1807 (the year our ejectment law was enacted) he was retained in most of the ejectment cases in his district. That year he removed to Bellefonte and continued his practice there until he was appointed by Governor Findlay President of the 4th District. He completed his work on tax titles in June, 1849, and in the same year died at the age of 80 years. He and Thomas Burnside married sisters. One of Judge Huston's daughters also married James T. Hale, a noted lawyer and member of Congress at Bellefonte. The stone house in which Judge Huston lived stood until a few years ago not far from the place now occupied by Colonel Spangler. Judge Huston was at one time a surveyor and he frequently refers to his experiences in that capacity not only in trial of cases in Common Pleas, but also in the Supreme Court. He went farther probably than any of the Judges on the Supreme Bench in adopting the customs of surveyors as a criterion, and index to guide the court and determine the law of location. Two cases illustrating this may be cited; one is the case of Smay vs. Dr. Smith's executor's, decided by Judge Huston in 1829, and reported in 1 Penrose and Watts page 3; the other is the case of Norris vs. Hamilton, from this county, decided by Judge Huston in 1838, and reported in 7 Watts, page 91. This latter case so far as I know is the first case in the Supreme Court affecting what is known as the Ashley surveys on Little Clearfield Creek, of which some of us come to know a good deal over 30 years ago. There were 21 surveys returned as having been surveyed in the months of June and July, 1785; 9 upon one side of the creek and 12 upon the other. They were each upon descriptive warrants and each called for living corners; they had two peculiarities, one was that as long ago as 35 years there was no surveyor living who could testify to having found more than two living corners. The other was that the meander of the Creek as shown by the surveys corresponded so closely with the crooked courses of the creek that it furnished almost conclusive evidence that the surveys had been located on the Creek as they were returned. Apart from this fact there was strong evidence furnished by the absence of any original mark except the two that this entire block of surveys had been located elsewhere as was claimed by one of the parties. There is a block of surveys in Centre county, in Half Moon Valley, located as early as 1766, in which the original monuments are still identified, fixing their location with certainty. The condition of this block in Clearfield county to which I have referred has been the source of much litigation.

Thomas Burnside presided in these courts from 1825 until 1841. In January 1845, he succeeded Charles Huston on the Supreme Bench, the term of Huston having expired. He was a red-haired, plain-faced Irishman without great learning but with wonderful sense and judgment and [illegible] which is a great credit to his memory. His decisions do not deal much with authorities, probably less than any other man who occupied the Supreme Court Bench, but rarely failed to give the correct rule applying to the case. He was fond of humor and many stories are told illustrating this. He was a very strong character and fine illustration of the old time judge. Up until he became a Common Pleas Judge he practiced from time to time in this county. His stone house in Bellefonte I think still stands to this day nearly opposite the residence of Governor Curtin. When on the Supreme Bench he was a great favorite of Judge Gibson, who like himself was a plain unconventional man. It is said that Gibson always addressed him in personal intercourse as "Burney." He was a great honor to Centre county, which has produced a larger number of the noted lawyers than any other county of its size in the State. He died on the 25th of March, 1851, while still a member of the Supreme Court.

La Grippe Coughs,

Strain and weaken the system and if not checked may develop into pneumonia. No danger of this when Foley's Honey and Tar is taken promptly. It is a reliable family medicine for all coughs and colds, and acts quickly and effectively in cases of croup. Refuse substitutes. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Invents an Airship.

The Lewisburg Journal says that: Robert G. Rettinger, of Sunburg, has been granted a patent right on an airship, which it is believed will prove a revelation in aerial crafts. Mr. Rettinger's airship is of the dirigible type, being a combination of balloon and planes with depending wings to make it more bouoyant. He has been working on the device for some time and has it well perfected, but it has not yet been decided how soon a machine will be made. Persons who have been made acquainted with workings of the craft are quite enthusiastic about it and predict that it will be a success.

Speedy Relief from Kidney Trouble.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder, and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Sharp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcome the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Many ills come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthens stomach, bowels and liver, and purifies the blood.

MILLIONS FOR ROADS

Plan in Legislature Calls for Bond Issue of $50,000,000.

An elaborate road project, affecting Centre and virtually every other County in the State, was introduced into the Legislature, at Harrisburg, last week by Senator W. C. Sproul, of Deleware County. It provides for a complete reorganization of the State Highway Department and designates the routes of roads to be constructed by the Commonwealth. There are 203 such routes, one of which passes through Centre County. Included, also, is an amendment to the constitution preliminary to issuing of $50,000,000 worth of bonds, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to highway improvements. A third bill is also apart of the general plan. This makes provision for State aid in the maintenance of County or Township roads improved to the standard set by the State Highway Department.

The proposed plan of legislation provides that all highways designated as "State Highways" shall be taken over from the Counties and Townships and shall be conducted and maintained by and solely at the expense of the State. The work is to be carried on in all parts of the State as equally and uniformly as possible. Immediately on the passage of the proposed acts, Counties and Townships, through which all or any portion of the designated State highways will pass, are relieved of any obligation to construct, maintain or repair them, and shall have no control over them. In a word, the numerous routes proposed establish a connection of County seats and the several larger communities in the State.

Should the legislation be passed, preliminary work, only, could be done before the latter part of 1913. The constitutional amendment, paving the way for issuing $50,000,000 worth of bonds by the State, would have to be passed by the present Legislature, also by the Legislature of 1913 and then approved at the polls in November of that year.

The roads in Centre and adjoining Counties, which would be taken over by the State under the proposed legislation, are designated in 4 of the 203 routes, as follows:

HUNTINGDON to HOLLIDAYSBURG.

Commencing in Huntingdon, to Alexandria, Water Street and Birmingham, to a point on the dividing line between Huntingdon and Blair counties, and thence by way of Tyrone, Bellwood and Altoona into Hollidaysburg.

HUNTINGDON TO BELLEFONTE.

Commencing in Huntingdon, to route No. 55 to Tyrone; thence by way of Vail to a point on the dividing line between Blair and Centre counties; thence by way of Hannah, Port Matilda, Julian, Unionville and Milesburg into Bellefonte.

HOLLIDAYSBURG TO CLEARFIELD.

Commencing in Hollidaysburg, in route No. 55, to Tyrone; over route No. 56, on the dividing line between Blair and Centre counties; Sandy Ridge. Centre county, to a point on the dividing line between Clearfield and Centre counties; to Philipsburg, and to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clearfield counties and by way of West Decatur, Singtonand Williams Grove into Clearfield.

BELLEFONTE TO LOCK HAVEN.

Commencing in Bellefonte to Howard, to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clinton counties, and by way of Beech Creek and Mill Hall to a point on the boundary line of Lock Haven.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds all Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Bellefonte women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanetly cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Bellefonte woman's words:

Mrs. L. Ingram, 382 E. Bishop St., Bellefonte, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done a world of good and I feel that I cannot speak too highly of them. I suffered intensely from backache and my kidneys gave me a great deal of annoyance. Nothing helped me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Green's Pharmacy Co. In return for the improvement they made I publicly recommended them in October, 1907 and at this time I can say that I have had no further trouble from my kidneys. You are liberty to use my name as one who recommends Doan's Kidney Pills from personal experience."

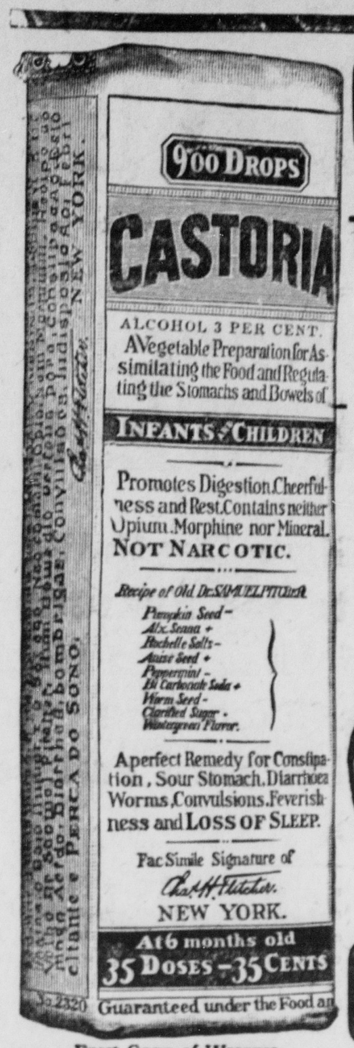
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

For Sale.

Used engines, boilers, machinery, shafting, boxes, iron pulleys, mandrels, saw mill, automatic mill, lath mill and bolter, iron cylinder, heavy chains for log jack work, smoke stack, 80ft. wrought iron fence and two gates, spark arrester, cast iron pipe 11 inch diameter, two boilers, drag saw, 1 large and two small office desks, one counter with drawers, steel ceiling, odd lot of lumber, moulding, etc.

P. B. CRIDER & SON,
11-10-4t. Bellefonte, Pa.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES – 35 CENTS
Guaranteed under the Food an Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

MADAME DEAN'S FRENCH FEMALE PILLS.
A SAFE, CERTAIN RELIEF for SUPPRESSED MENSTRUATION.
NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL. Safe! Sure! Speedy! Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded. Send prepaid for $1.00 per box. Will send them on trial, to be paid for when relieved. Samples Free. If your druggist does not have them send your orders to the UNITED CHEMICAL CO., BOX 74, LANDISVILLE, PA.
Sold in Bellefonte by C. M. Parish

OVER 65 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH TROUBLE and CONSTIPATION

DON'T CARRY A YOKE
consisting of debts, borrowed money, lost friends and all such ills. Relief from drudgery and anxiety comes through saving all the money you can. You always have an opportunity to better yourself if you have a little account to back you up. The Bellefonte Trust Company opens for you the gate to your future advancement. Enter—and learn the value of independence.

Bellefonte Trust Company.

H-O You Farmers and Agriculturalists H-O
Your land must have LIME if you want to raise paying crops. Use Hydrated lime (H-O) through your drill or broadcast when you seed, for quick results. Or use ordinary lime, fresh forkings, or lime for general use.
BE SURE TO USE LIME.
Ground Lime and Limestone for all purposes.
Limestone crushed to any size.
WORKS AT
Bellefonte, Frankstown, Spring Meadows, Tyrone Forge and Union Furnace.
The largest lime manufactures in Penna.
Now is the time to place your orders for prompt shipments. All railroad connections. Write for literature and all information and send your orders to American Lime & Stone Company.
Office: TYRONE, PA.

BELLEFONTERS IN PHILA.

They Held Their Seventh Annual Banquet on February 14th.

On Tuesday of last week the annual banquet of the Centre County Association of Philadelphia, was held at the Continental Hotel, in that city. As usual, there was a large number of the members present, all of whom had a most delightful time. A regrettable feature was the abscence of Dr. Roland G. Curtin, the president. He had not been out of the house for several weeks on account of illness. He, however, intended to be present on this occasion but it rained and he was unable to get there. General B. F. Fisher was also detained at home by illness.

The program was as follows; vocal solo, Mrs. W. W. Foster; recitation, Miss Lydia Underwood; vocal solo, George Ford; accompanist, Chauncey Delong. Music by C. Lewis Hull's orchestra.

The menu consisted of everything found on the tables for such an occasion. One of the special attractions was what was known on the bill of fare as the "Ceader Centre County Cake." It was baked by Joseph Ceader, of Bellefonte, and sent to the society with his compliments. The ladies and gentlemen who sat around the festive board were highly delighted with Mr. Ceader's kindness and thoughtfulness in behalf of the Centre Countians who are making the Quaker City their home. Notwithstanding there was a large crowd present each person was given a piece of this delicious cake. It was cut by Mrs. Mary H. Magee, president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

After partaking of the feast of good things the feast of the soul commenced. Ira D. Garman, chairman of the banquet committee, was chosen toastmaster. He is an old hand at the business and did it up in elegant shape. Flowery toasts were made by Rev. L. Kryder Evans, Rev. W. K. Foster, Rev. Robert Harkinson, William S. Furst, Esq., Charles A. McClure, Ira D. Garman and Forrest N. Magee, Esq. Their after-dinner speeches were of a character that brought forth fond recollections of the days when they called old Centre County "home."

The following are the names of the members and guests present:

Mrs. David J. Beale, Dr. John C. C. Beale, Misses Henrietta and Mame Butts, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clark, Mrs. Ella H. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. David Dailey, Mr. Chauncey Delong, Miss Ada Null Dom, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Dornblaser, Rev. L. Kryder Evans, Mrs. Albert W. Ford, I. G. Gordon Forster, Esq., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foster, Rev. and Mrs. W. K. Foster, Mrs. William W. Foster, William S. Furst, Esq., Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Garman, Mrs. R. A. Gilmore, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Harkinson, Mr. Herman Haupt, Mr. and Mrs. William Hirlinger, Mrs. Augustus Hoover, Mr. Jerry Hutchison, Mrs. Martha E. R. Kellar, Mrs. C. T. Lichton, Mr. Max Liveright, Miss Bessie Liveright, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCafferty, Charles A. McClure, Esq., Forrest N. Magee, Esq., Mrs. Mary H. Magee, Mr. William A. Magee, Miss Hilma Martin, Dr. and Mrs. S. Gray Mattern, Mr. L. Olin Meek, Mr. Edward H. Miller, Mr. Isaac P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Platt, Mr. John I. Rankin, Miss Lillian Reece, Dr. and Mrs. Stuart C. Runkle, Miss Lida Sanders, Mr. Charles B. Schaffer, Miss Margaret Schaffer, Miss Julia Schaffer, Dr. Florence Treatheway, Dr. Amos P. Underwood, Miss Ida J. Underwood, Dr. and Mrs. J. Harris Underwood, Miss Lydia Underwood, Mr. Warner Underwood, Miss Hattie Wagner, Mr. P. Gross Yearick, Capt. George P. Runkle, Miss Peters, Miss Eva Rich, and Dr. Caroline Cornstock.

Lt. Col. Lewis E. Beitler.

Lieutenant Colonel Lewis E. Beitler, of Philadelphia, has tendered his resignation as Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth to take effect upon the first of the month.

Colonel Beitler, who is one of the best known young men in public life in Pennsylvania, has been in official position on "The Hill" for sixteen years. He first figured politically as private secretary to Edwin S. Stuart, when he was Mayor of Philadelphia. Then he became secretary to Daniel H. Hastings when he was elected Governor, and before the end of the Hastings administration he was made Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, which position he held continuously under the administrations of Governors Stone, Pennypacker and Stuart.

Governor Stone appointed him a Lieutenant Colonel upon his military staff and he was retained in that position until a few weeks ago, when he was reappointed by Governor Tener. When it became known that Colonel Beitler had handed his resignation to Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee, it was stated that he intended to go into private business.

Colonel Beitler, who is a member of the Union League of Philadelphia, and active in Masonic circles has a brother, A. M. Beitler, who was formerly a Common Pleas. Court Judge in the Quaker City. It is authoritatively stated that no agreement has been reached regarding a successor to Colonel Beitler as Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth.

A Peculiar Request.

Directions that her body be cremated and the ashes strewn over the grave of her husband at Bergen, Norway, are contained in the will of Mrs. Sara C. Bull, widow of Ole Bull, the violinist, which has just been filed for probate in Biddleford, Me.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one wild, Doan's Ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures. Fifty cents at any drug store.

The Republican," $1 a year in advance.

Novel Use of a Billboard.

During a recent run on a western bank a billboard was set up in the street, where the line of depositors were gathered, and its frank statement of the bank's condition did much to restore confidence. Many people dropped out of the line after reading the sign, which bore this legend: "This bank can pay every dollar on deposit. It is one of the strongest banks on the Pacific coast. It has been your friend. Jealous competitors have worked to bring you here. Every person in this line should show their loyalty by leaving at once. Your money is safe. Why, then, remain here doing an unkind and foolish thing? Break ranks." The run lasted thirty-six hours, but the bank stood the strain and remained solvent. An enterprising merchant took advantage of the incident to secure a novel advertisement for his store. It happened that he was prepared to move into the adjoining building and the picture of the crowd before the bank had the appearance of heading for his new quarters. A cut of this picture was used for his announcement, the legend reading, "Your money is safe if you follow the crowd to"— giving the name of his own establishment.—Bookkeeper.

A Cordial Welcome.

A well known American portrait painter, armed with a full length portrait study taken off the stretcher and rolled under his arm, ventured to call on Whistler one Sunday morning. His modest knock brought the great man to the door, says a writer in Great Thoughts. Opening it a little way, he thrust out his head and demanded irritably:

"What brings you here? What do you want?"

The artist stammered out that he was a student and had a study that he would much like to show Whistler.

Whistler said, "M-m-m—just wait a minute!" and, rushing back into the room, he turned every picture with its face to the wall and removed from the easel the canvas on which he was engaged. Then, motioning the American in, he sat down and said: "Now, what do you want? You know I'm fearfully busy today, but sit down—sit down!"

A Puzzled Artist.

Of unsigned paintings the Dusseldorfer Zeitung tells an amusing story, which may interest picture buyers. Achenbach, the German artist, enjoyed a vogue some years ago. A certain collector had bought from an art dealer a seascape represented as a genuine Achenbach. Afterward it was pronounced to be a copy. The buyer brought an action against the dealer, who turned the tables by declaring that his picture was genuine and the other was a copy.

Achenbach himself was summoned by the courts to tell which was which. Amazed at the absolute similarity of the two paintings, he gazed at them for a long time, inspected them closely, front and back, sniffed them and then frankly admitted he could not tell which was the original and which the copy.

A Town In the Philippines.

Santo Domingo has a population of about 2,000 and is entirely different from any other town in the Philippines. In the first place, all the buildings are of stone, whitewashed. The roofs are made of cogon grass, closely trimmed so as to afford no purchase to the severe typhoons which sweep over the islands. The streets are about twelve feet wide, many of them paved with stone. Some walls extend along both sides of the streets their full length, giving them the appearance of lanes. The walls are about three to five feet in height, broken at intervals for entrance to the yards, which in turn are separated from each other by stone walls. Most of the yards are clean and exceptionally neat and attractive.—Manila Times.

The White of an Egg.

The white of an egg is made up of little cells filled with albumen. By beating the white these cells are ruptured and oxygen from the air is inclosed, which gives the white and light appearance to beaten eggs. The white of a stale egg will not inclose as much oxygen, will not be as light and as easily digested as that of the fresh egg and, of course, less valuable. The importance of beating the egg in cold, pure air is readily seen.

Complete Lives.

We should all strive to make our lives complete. Many people only half live. Health without usefulness, intellect without unselfishness, pleasure without duty—these are incomplete and unsatisfying elements of living.

How They Do It.

In a hotel in a certain city is the following notice:

"Boarders are taken by the day, week or month. Those who do not pay promptly are taken by the neck."—Lippincott's.

A Luxury.

"But," objected the heiress, "I have been accustomed to every luxury."

"That's all the more reason why you should marry me," replied the impecunious suitor. "I'm a luxury myself."

Courage.

What one needs to cultivate is a tenacity of purpose that will not quail nor turn aside, a courage that in emergencies dares to separate from the crowd, that never recognizes defeat.

Laughter.

Laughter is recommended as a cure for indigestion. It looks easy to the person who is not afflicted with indigestion.—Toledo Blade.

Too Talkative.

The following story is told of the famous painter Makart: The artist was a very passionate chess player, but he did not like his adversary to utter a single word during the progress of a game. A stranger who was very anxious to get on intimate terms with the famous artist thought to be able to achieve his object by means of the royal game. After many tries he succeeded at last in getting an introduction to Makart, and one day the latter consented to play a game with him. Being well aware of the fact that his adversary was very much averse to any talk during the game, not a word was spoken, and even the word "check" was never spoken. All the stranger dared to do was to touch his adversary's king when he put that piece in check. The game ended in Makart being mated, when the stranger quietly said "checkmate." Makart rose very excitedly, threw the pieces off the board and, giving his opponent a fierce look, got off his chair, turned his back to the stranger and exclaimed "Prattler!"

Curious Way of Cooling Water.

The average native woman in the interior of Nicaragua may appear enervated and listless, but her method of cooling water is strenuous indeed. She fills a half gallon earthenware jar about two-thirds full. The jar is made of baked clay and, not being glazed, is partially porous, so that it soon becomes moist on the outside. By means of two leathern straps firmly attached to the neck of the jar the woman causes the same to rotate swiftly in the air. The mouth is wide open, but the centrifugal motion keeps the water from flying out. The endurance shown by the Nicaraguan women of the poorer class in this form of calisthenics is said to be marvelous. When, in the opinion of the operator, the water is sufficiently cooled she stops the movement by a dexterous twist of her wrist and hands the jar to the person that has been waiting to quench his thirst. By this process tepid water can be reduced to the temperature of a very cool mountain spring.—New York Press.

An Unmanned Lightship.

There is stationed off the island of Islay, on the west coast of Scotland, at the Otter rock an interesting lightship. It is unmanned, yet it can be relied on to display the warning light to guide the mariner on this dangerous coast. It is a very ingeniously constructed vessel and the only one of its kind. In its two steel tanks sufficient gas can be stored to supply the vessel for several months. Experiments have shown that the light may be depended upon to burn continuously for months at a time. The approximate duration of the light can always be predetermined, and there is no danger whatever of the light being extinguished by wind or spray. The light is visible at a distance of from eight to twelve miles. The lightship also has a bell, which is made to ring automatically by means of an ingenious device that utilizes the gas as it passes from the tanks to the lantern to work the bell clapper.—Harper's Weekly.

Always a Harvest Somewhere.

There is a harvest every month during the year, as follows: January—Australia, New Zealand, Argentine, Chile; February—India; March—India, upper Egypt; April—Mexico, Cuba, lower Egypt, Syria, Persia, Asia Minor; May—North Africa, China, Japan and the southern United States of America; June—Mediterranean and southern France, central and east United States of America south of 40 degrees; July—France, Austria, Hungary, southern Russia, northern United States of America, Ontario and Quebec; August—England, Belgium, Netherlands, Germany, east Canada; September—Scotland, Sweden, Norway, Russia; October—Finland and northern Russia; November—Peru, South Africa; December—Burma, South Australia. It is a complete table and shows how the wheat supply pours into England during every month of the year.—English Agricultural Journal.

A Brazilian Household Pet.

Brazilians train a snake called the giboia as a rat catcher. It is fifteen feet long, is harmless to the human being, becomes quite a household pet, is lazy in the daytime, but at night roams about the house in quest of its prey—rats. These animals it promptly kills by twisting their necks. When Brazilians have to pass from room to room in the dark they first put on their slippers. It would not be pleasant to plant one's bare feet on a cold, slimy snake of that size.

Made the Most of It.

A well known French actor became involved in a discussion with an American, grew heated, drew his card from his pocket, threw it on the table with a tragic air and stalked out. The American regarded the card for some moments, then took out his fountain pen and wrote "Admit bearer" above the engraved line and went off to the theater.—Argonaut.

A Reproof.

"Oh, children, you are so noisy today. Can't you be a little quieter?"

"Now, grandma, you must be more considerate and not scold us. You see, if it wasn't for us you wouldn't be a grandma at all."

Inconsistent.

Guest—So your daughter belongs to the Universal Peace and Amiability society? Host—Yes, and she's rapidly fighting her way to the front of that society.

A trick is at the best but a mean thing.—Le Sage

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows: "When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is away below my hips.

Another from Newark, N. J. "I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other one preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

Cut This Out

Free To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO. Chicago, Ill.

with their name and address and 10c in silver or stamps to pay postage.

Backache, Rheumatism, Nervousness

Mean disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have helped your neighbor; they will also help you. Mrs. G. Ake, Altoona, Pa., says, "For several months I suffered with my kidneys and pains in the small of my back. It was painful for me when stooping and made me dizzy with severe headaches. My kidney action was irregular and painful and when I read of Foley Kidney Pills I decided to try them. After taking them a short period all kidney misery left as did also the pains in the back. Those dark spots before my eyes have disappeared and in general the pills made me feel exceptionally good. I desire to recommend them highly to anyone in need of a kidney medicine." Sold by C. M. Parrish

Another Fool Dead.

Arch Clawson, aged 45, went up the Allegheny river the other morning in company with two companions to Dan Wilson's houseboat, where they had half a barrel of beer. He bet he could drink 50 glasses of it inside of two hours. He won the wager but said he was all in and was going to take a snooze. He tumbled into a bunk and fell sound asleep. In the afternoon when an effort was made to arouse him he was dead.

Read "The Republican" $1 a year.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with us.

Green's Pharmacy, Bellefonte, Pa.

Legal Notice.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested, that the following inventories of the goods and chattels set apart to widows under the provisions of the Act of April the 14th, 1851, have been confirmed Nisi by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court of Centre County, and if no exceptions be filed on or about the first day of next term, the same will be confirmed absolutely.

1. The inventory and appraisement of the personal property of Henry A. Snyder late of Liberty Township, deceased, as the same was set apart to his widow, Susan Snyder.

2. The inventory and appraisement of the personal property of Alfred T. Corman late of Miles Township, deceased, as the same was set apart to his widow, Agnes Corman.

3. The inventory and appraisement, of the personal property of Frank T. Bohn late of College Township, deceased, as the same was set apart to his widow, Sarah C. Bohn.

4. The inventory and appraisement of the personal property of J. P. Weber, late of State College Borough, deceased, as the same was apart to his widow, Mary E. Weber.

5. Notice is hereby given that there has been appraised and set apart to Susan C. Geary, widow of Daniel B. Geary, late of Penn Township, deceased, out of the estate of said decedent, real and personal property to the amount of $5000.00 under the act of Assembly approved April 1st, 1909, as follows to wit:—

Cash	$3875.00
Real Estate	1125.00

Description of Real Estate.

Purpart No. 1. (a) All that certain messuage and tract or piece of land situate in Penn Township, Centre County, Pa., bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at a stone, thence along land of the heirs of Philip Kreider, deceased, and George Harter, North 6¼ degrees East 24 8-10 perches to a stone, thence along Mary Graham's land South 82¼ degrees West 21 6-10 perches to a stone, thence South 11 degrees East 20 perches to a stone, thence along land of David Hosterman South 81¼ degrees East 15 perches to the place of beginning. Containing 2 acres and 79 perches neat measure. Being the same premises which Mary Graham by deed dated April 7, 1882, recorded in Centre County in Deed Book Vol. X, at page 538 etc., granted and conveyed to Daniel Geary.

Purpart No. 1. (b) All that certain piece of land adjoining land of Daniel B. Geary on the South, beginning at a dead pine, thence North 11¼ degrees East 9¼ perches to a stone along lands of M. S. Feidler, thence along other land of Francis J. Foster, Mary G. Foster and John W. Foster South 85 degrees West 21 1-10 perches to stone in Public road, thence along said public road South 24¼ degrees East 9 1-10 perches to a post in said public road adjoining other lands of Daniel B. Geary, thence along same North 85 degrees East 15 6-10 perches to the place of beginning. Containing 1 acre and 1 perch neat measure. Being same premises which Francis J. Foster, Exrx—et. al. by deed dated March 23, 1883, recorded in Centre County, in Deed Book Vol. 63, at page 473, etc., granted and conveyed to Daniel B. Geary. Appraised at $225.00

Purpart No. 2 All that certain messuage or tract of land situate in Penn Township, Centre County, Pa., bounded and described as follows, to wit; Beginning at post near marked pine, thence along land of Daniel Boal South 49 degrees East 33 perches to stones, thence by land of Jacob Sankey South 20 degrees East 50 perches to post near Maple pointer, and thence by land of David Nees North 59 degrees West 49 perches to the place of beginning. Containing 4 acres, 126 perches neat measure. Being same premises which Jacob W. Snook and wife by deed dated June 24, 1873 recorded in Centre County in Deed Book Vol. L. No. 2 at page 132 etc., granted and conveyed to Daniel Geary. Appraised at $275.00

Purpart No. 3. All that certain messuage or tract of land situate in Penn Township, Centre County, Pa., beginning at stones on East side of public road leading from Green Briar Southward to the old turnpike and on line between the lands of Daniel Geary estate and Jacob Sander's estate, thence South 34 degrees East 20 rods to post, thence South 13 degrees East 19 rods to post, thence North 67 degrees East 112 perches to stones, thence North 28¼ degrees West 50 perches to stones thence South 61¼ degrees West 108 rods to the place of beginning. Containing about 26 acres, be the same more or less. Appraised at $225.00

The above appraisement has been confirmed Nisi by the Court, and publication ordered for a period of three days, and if no exceptions be filed thereto, within thirty days, the same will be confirmed absolutely by the Court.

EARLE C. TUTEN, Register.
Register & Clerk of Orphans' Court.

Register's Notice.

The following accounts have been examined, passed and filed of record in the Register's office for the inspection of heirs and legatees, creditors and all others in anywise interested, and will be presented to the Orphans' Court of Centre County for confirmation on Wednesday, the first day of March, A. D. 1911.

1. The account of Sumner Stover, administrator of &c., of Eliza Stover, late of Miles Township, Centre County, deceased.

2. The third account of Charles F. Zindel, guardian of Claire C. Smith, minor child of Joseph Smith, late of Snow Shoe Township, deceased.

3. The first and final account of John Weber, administrator of etc., of Mary A. Baker, late of Howard Borough, deceased.

4. The first and final account of John L. Holmes, executor of the estate of James I. Yarnell, late of State College Borough, deceased.

5. The account of S. K. Emerick, administrator of &c., of Eliza J. Leathers, late of Unionville Borough, deceased.

6. The first and final account of Wm. H. Minnich and Jonas M. Stover, administrators of John Y. Stover, late of Miles Township, deceased.

7. The second account of H. H. Osman, guardian of Cora V. Hardy, Augus D. Hardy and Simions A. Hardy, minor children of Daniel Hardy, late of Taylor Township, deceased.

8. The account of W. H. Phillips, administrators of &c., of Christina Bower, late of Haines Township, deceased.

9. The first and partial account of Robert B. Orwig, guardian of Naoma Kelly and Freda M. Kelly, minor children of Robert J. Kelly, late of Worth Township, deceased.

10. The first and final account of William Henry Thompson, administrator C. T. A., of &c., of William Thompson, late of College Township deceased.

11. The first and final account of Herman K. Miller, administrator of &c., of Richard W. Miller, late of Bellefonte Borough, deceased.

12. The first and partial account of Ella M. Gray and G. Oscar Gray, administrators of &c., of John F. Gray, late of State College Borough, deceased.

13. The first and final account of Henry Bennett, administrator of &c., of Nancy C. Bennett, late of Worth Township, deceased.

14. The first and final account of W. D. Crosby, as executor of the estate of Sarah Catharine Ross, late of Philipsburg Borough, deceased.

15. The first and final account of George M. Boal, executor of &c., of George Swab, late of Harris Township, deceased.

16. The first and final account of C. A. Williams, executor of the last will and testament of George Heverly, late of Liberty Township, deceased.

17. The first and final account of T. R. Motz, administrator of &c., of S. M. Motz, late of Haines Township, deceased.

18. The first and final account of J. L. Tressler, executor, of &c. of D. J. Tressler, deceased, late of Harris Township.

19. The account of George W. Fisher, administrator of Mary Fisher, deceased, late of Unionville borough.

20. The first and final account of Henry H. Knoffsinger and William G. Runkle, executors of the last will and testament of William Knoffsinger, deceased, late of Spring township.

21. The first and final account of Minnie Vonada, administratrix of John Vonada, deceased, late of Bellefonte Borough.

22. The first and final account of Debbie Sinkle, executrix, of the last will and testament of Jacob Sanders, late of Penn Township, Centre County, Pa., deceased.

EARLE C. TUTEN
Register's Office, Register.
Bellefonte, Pa. Jan. 30, 1911. 2-2-4t

Court Proclamation!

Whereas the Honorable Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the 49th. Judicial District, consisting of the county of Centre, having issued his precept, bearing date the 24th day of December, 1911, to me directed for holding in Court of Common Pleas, Orphans' Court, Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, in Bellefonte, for the county of Centre, and to commence on the being the 27th. day of February, 1911, and to continue two weeks.

FOURTH MONDAY OF FEBRUARY,

NOTICE is hereby given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace, Aldermen and Constables of said county of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 27th., with their records, inquisitions, examinations and their own remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances, to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Centre county, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 1st day of February, in the year of our Lord, 1911, and the one hundred and thirty-fifth year of the Independence of the United States of America.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff's Office, Sheriff.
Bellefonte, Pa., February 1, 1911. 2-2-4t

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County, to me directed, will be exposed to public sale at the Court House in the Borough of Bellefonte, Pa. on MONDAY FEBRUARY 27th. 1911.

At 1:30 o'clock P. M. the following described real estate, to wit:

All that certain messuage, tenement and lot of ground situate lying and being in Philipsburg Boro. Centre County, Penna. bounded and described as follows to-wit:—Beginning on North side of Maple street 80 feet east of N. E. corner of Second and Maple streets and at corner of lot of L. L. Miller thence north by line of Miller and parallel with Second Street sixty-six (66) feet to line of M. Switzer, thence east by line of Switzer and parallel with Maple street forty (40) feet to corner of Alex. Pierce, thence South by line of Pierce and parallel with Second street sixty-six (66) feet to Maple street, thence by Maple street forty (40) feet to corner of L. L. Miller and place of beginning, having thereon erected a two-story frame dwelling house and necessary out-buildings.

Seized taken into execution and to be sold as the property of F. F. Ferguson and A. E. Ferguson now (Annie E. Sigler.)

TERMS OF SALE:—No deed will be acknowledged until purchase price is paid in full.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff's Office, Sheriff.
Bellefonte, Pa., Feby. 6th. 1911.

Notice in Divorce.

Adie Gutelius, vs. Charles Lee Gutelius. } In the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County, No. 83 September Term, 1910 in divorce A. V. M.

To Charles Lee Gutelius:—Whereas your wife Adie Gutelius has filed a libel in the Court of Common Pleas of Centre County No. 83 September Term 1910, praying for a divorce against you, now you are hereby notified and requested to appear in said court on or before Monday February 27th. 1911 to answer the complaint of your said wife Adie Gutelius and to show cause if any you have why the said Adie Gutelius should not be divorced from the bonds of matrimony entered into with you and in default of such appearance you will be liable to have a divorce granted in your absence.

W. E. HURLEY,
Sheriff's Office Bellefonte, Pa. Sheriff.
January 30th. 1911.

Executor's Notice.

Estate of Catherine Condo, late of Gregg township, deceased.

Letters of administration in the above named estate having been granted to the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Centre County, Pennsylvania, all persons indebted to the said estate are hereby requested to make payment and all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present the same duly authenticated without delay to

W. M. ALLISON,
1-25-6t Executor, Spring Mills, Pa.

Administrators' Notice.

In the matter of the Estate of John I. Olewine, late of the Borough of Bellefonte, deceased:

Letters of administration in the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims to present the same duly authenticated for settlement without delay.

M. ELIZABETH OLEWINE,
W. M. BOTTORF,
Administrators.
W. Harrison Walker, Bellefonte, Pa.
Attorney for Estate 1-5-6t

Executor's Notice.

In the matter of the Estate of Jane Hartsock, late of Patton Township, deceased.

Letters testamentary in the above named estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons having claims against said estate, and all persons indebted to said estate, are requested to present the same for immediate settlement.

WILLIAM E. HARTSOCK, Executor.
Henry C. Quigley, Waddle, Penna.
Attorney. 1-29-6t.

Central R. R. of Penna. Train Schedule.

Leave,

Bellefonte for Mill Hall, 7:05 A. M., 2:20 and 6:55 P. M.

Leave,

Mill Hall for Bellefonte, 8:33 A. M., 3:56 and 8:35 P M.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

for backache, rheumatism, kidney or bladder trouble, and urinary irregularities. Foley's Kidney Pills purify the blood, restore lost vitality and vigor. Refuse substitutes.

For sale at C M Parrish' drug store

THE REPUBLICAN.

Bellefonte, Pa., February 23, 1911.

CHARLES E. DORWORTH, - Ed., & Pub.
W. FRANCIS SPEER - - Associate Editor

Subscription rate, $1 a year, strictly in Advance.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

The Republican and the New York Tribune Farmer, $1.50 a year in Advance.

—— Advertising Rates. ——

One Column, 1 year.....$100
One Half Column, 1 year..... 60
One Quarter Column, 1 year..... 35
Legal Notices (if no special contract exists) 10 cents per line, each insertion, nonpareil measure.

Tuesday, last, would have been election day had not the people voted to amend the constitution to abolish spring elections. How many persons thought about it,—or cared?

So far as we were able to notice, Democratic County Chairman Kimport did not participate in the Democratic shindy at Philadelphia. Is the Democratic organization in Centre County for or ferninst the plan to harmonize the warring elements in the party?

The Howard correspondent of the "Centre Democrat" should have consulted a certain distinguished Bellefonte Democrat before starting in to explain who was the first to offer objection to holding the recent good roads meeting in the Court House. Strange how that information was overlooked, especially when it might have so easily been secured from the editor of the "Centre Democrat" himself. Isn't John A. the fussy fellow? B-r-r-r!

When Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, was introduced to speak at the Democratic "harmony" dinner, at Philadelphia, on Tuesday evening, the band played, "What's the matter with father, he's all in." The list of prominent Democrats to send regrets was notable for its length. Charley Donnelly and Tommy. Ryan, the Democratic bosses in Philadelphia, were not invited to the feast, so they got up one of their own in another part of the city and at the same hour. As one Philadelphia newspaper aptly portrayed in a cartoon, there was a missing guest at each of the rival dinners—the dove of peace.

Gave Delightful Entertainment.

On Monday evening, February 20, Miss Leoda Decker entertained the Principal and pupils of the Ferguson Township High School at an oyster supper at her home, on Main Street, Pine Grove Mills. The dining room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with potted plants, pennants and the school colors, blue and white. Prof. White was chosen toastmaster and after a few brief toasts by several members of the school the guests withdrew to the parlor to spend the remainder of the evening with music and games. The clock was chiming twelve when the guests took their departure, all delighted with the pleasant evening they had spent.

Should be Enacted.

County Commissioners Woodring, Zimmerman and Dunlap have arranged for the drafting of a bill, which if passed by the Legislature, will result in the saving to the several counties in the State of large sums of money spent in payment of costs in petty lawsuits. Representative J. C. Meyer will be asked to introduce the bill. In substance, the bill provides that before issuing a warrant, every Justice of the Peace be required to exact from the prosecutor a bond sufficient to cover the costs. In many instances trifling cases are brought, resulting in the costs being placed on the prosecutor and he turns out to be worthless. The burden then falls upon the county.

Change in Firm Name.

The firm name of Joseph Brothers & Co. has been changed to Joseph & Co. The interest of the late Emil Joseph has been withdrawn from the firm and hereafter the large store will be conducted by Sigmund Joseph and Herman Holtz, who will continue the business at the old stand. Both these gentlemen have been progressive members of the old and reliable firm for many years. As to their honesty, integrity and square dealing it is not necessary for us to make any extended comment, because that is too well known. The large business which they have built up in Bellefonte is the best testimony of their worth and ability. We wish them continued success.

Miss Lucas a Bride.

A pretty wedding was that on Friday morning, last, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Houserman, at Tyrone, when Miss Tacy Lucas, of Runville, a sister of Mrs. Houserman, became the bride of James Park, of Tyrone. The ceremouy was performed by Rev. H. J. Schuchart, pastor of the Fairview Methodist Episcopal church. On returning from their wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Park will reside at Tyrone. The bride is an accomplished young lady, possessing considerable talent in literary work. The groom is a fireman on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Rev. P. E. Paul Tells of His Trip to Trinidad

(continued from first page)

is found. It is very thick and, like the big spring in Bellefonte, it is inexhaustible Millions of shiploads have been taken out and yet it has not made any noticeable difference in the appearance of the sea. It is dipped out in immense ladles and then thoroughly boiled, when it is ready for use. It is then transported by ships to the large coast cities of America, where it is distributed to all the inland cities and towns for the purpose of making streets and good roads. R. B. Taylor, of Bellefonte, used some of it last summer in making the new state road in Bellefonte. This is one of the principal industries at Trinidad, giving employment to an army of the inhabitants.

Space will not permit writing more about this interesting city and its people although much more could be said. In closing, however, we would just say that there are a good many white people residing there who are bringing gospel of good cheer to the nations, and every year they are solving economic questions that in the future will bring a higher civilization among all classes of people in the West Indies.

Rhoads Memorial Library.

The public is cordially invited to the exercises connected with the opening o the Francis Sinnickson Rhoads Memorial Reference Library, which will take place in the auditorium of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., on Saturday afternoon, next, at 4 o'clock. General James A. Beaver, on behalf of the donor, Miss Rebecca M. Rhoads, will present the library to the Association. Charles M. McCurdy, the worthy president of the Association, will respond, accepting the library.

The library consists of about two hundred of the very best reference books to be found on the market. Miss Rhoads has devoted much time and spent considerable money in trying to select the best books for the purpose. These volumes will contain information pertaining to every subject from a nail to the making of everything known to man. It will be up-to-date, explaining the workings of the automobile and giving valuable information about the airships that some day will carry both passengers and traffic.

"Frank" Rhoads, by which name he was more familiarly known in Bellefonte, and to whose memory the library will stand as a monument, died several years ago in Seattle. He was a splendid young man, known for his honesty and integrity, possessing those social qualities that made him popular among his friends. His devoted sister is to be highly commended for her thoughtfulness in erecting a monument to his memory that will be more durable than marble which crumbles, than iron that rusts, or brass or bronze that will corrode. Thousands of young men and women will be benefitted and who will always keep fresh in mind her brother who was of an excellent character, and worthy of the high honor bestowed upon his name. The donor will also be kindly remembered by those who, from time to time, will drink from this fountain of knowledge.

What good the Bellefonte Young Men's Christian Association has done in the last forty years will not be known until eternity shall reveal it. While this is true, its work has only begun, and what it requires now is a generous public that will supply its needs. Saving our young men will count more at the judgment seat of God than all the accumulated millions that have been put to no purpose.

There are other things needed at the Y. M. C. A., and it is hoped that many will be prompted to follow the example of Miss Rhoads by giving something to stimulate the cause. Dr. Weston, the General Secretary, has thoroughly demonstrated to some of our business men that he is the man for the place, and anything entrusted to his care will receive the proper attention.

Wedded in Catholic Church.

On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock a pretty wedding was solemnized in the Bellefonte Catholic church. The groom was Thomas Rishel and the bride was Miss Louise Gessner. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Father P. McArdle. The bride is well and favorably known in Bellefonte where for several years she had been employed in a number of homes as a seamstress. She is a very active woman and is thoroughly qualified in every way to make a most excellent wife. She received a number of handsome presents from friends, and a short time ago she was in Philadelphia where she made a selection of household goods for the purpose of going to housekeeping.

Mr. Rishel, the groom, is a most excellent gentleman, who will make a husband worthy of the respect of the young lady he led to the altar. For seventeen years he has been in the employ of the Bellefonte Central Railroad Co., as the supervisor of the road, and in that capacity has been very efficient. There is no doubt but that theirs will prove a happy home. After a little wedding tour they will make their home in Bellefonte. They have leased the house on Willowbank Street, now occupied by C. Y. Wagner, and will go to housekeeping there just as soon as it is vacated.

Delicious after-dinner mints, at 20c. per pound—at Green's.

Political Announcements

For Sheriff.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911. Your support will be appreciated.

GEORGE H. YARNELL,
Zion (Walker Township), Pa.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

D. O. DOWNING,
Port Matilda, Pa.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination for Sheriff on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of Centre County, at the primaries, 1911.

JACOB S. KNISELY,
Blacksmith,
Bellefonte, Pa.

For County Treasurer.

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

R. T. COMLEY,
(Union Township)
Fleming, Pa.

I hereby formally announce my candidacy for nomination for County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

ROBERT D. MUSSER,
Spring Mills, Pa.

I desire to hereby formally announce my candidacy for the nomination for County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

JOHN S. DALE,
(College Township,)
Dale Summit, Pa.

I desire to hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for County Treasurer on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of Centre County, at the primaries, 1911.

JOSIAH PRITCHARD,
Philipsburg, Pa.

For Register.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for the nomination for Register, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

E. J. WILLIAMS,
Fleming, Pa.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination for Register on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the primaries, 1911.

G. FRANK SASSERMAN,
Bellefonte Pa.

For Prothonotary.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for Prothonotary, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of Centre County, at the primaries, 1911.

H. C. ROTHROCK,
(Harris Township)
Boalsburg, Pa.

For Recorder.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination for Recorder subject to the approval of the Republican voters at the primaries, 1911.

WILLIAM H. BROWN,
Bellefonte, Pa.

For County Commissioner.

I hereby announce my candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

H. E. ZIMMERMAN,
Benner Township.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination for County Commissioner, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

JACOB WOODRING,
Worth Township.

For District Attorney.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for District Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters of Centre County, at the primaries, 1911.

JAMES C. FURST,
Bellefonte, Pa.

For County Auditor.

I hereby formally announce my candidacy for nomination for County Auditor, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County at the primaries, 1911.

CLEMENT H. GRAMLEY,
Rebersburg, Pa.

William H. Goss, of Pine Grove Mills, hereby announces himself a candidate for nomination for County Auditor, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Centre County, at the primaries, 1911.

Overseer of Poor.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination for Overseer of the Poor, Bellefonte Borough, subject to the approval of the Republicans at the primaries, 1911.

THOMAS MORGAN,
Bellefonte, Pa

I hereby make formal announcement of my candidacy for nomination for Overseer of the Poor of Bellefonte Borough, on the Democratic ticket, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters of Bellefonte Borough, at the primaries, 1911.

WILLIAM D. RIDER,
Bellefonte, Pa.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for Overseer of the Poor, in Bellefonte Borough, subject to the decision of the Republican voters, at the primaries, 1911.

HARRY BADGER,
Bellefonte, Pa.

I desire to formally announce my candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for Overseer of the Poor in the Borough of Bellefonte, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries, 1911.

ALEXANDER MORRISON,
Bellefonte, Pa.

I desire to announce my candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket for Overseer of the Poor in Bellefonte Borough, subject to the rules of the Republican party.

ISAAC MILLER,
Bellefonte, Pa.

OFF TO ILLINOIS

Five Centre County Young Men to Make Future Home in West.

Five young men from Pleasant Gap departed for Freeport, where they expect to make their future home. They were Homer Dunklebarger, Jack Mulfinger, Edward Mulfinger, Ralph Riddle and James Tate.

On their arrival in Freeport the young men will be met by William Dunlap, deputy Sheriff of Stevenson County, Illinois, and a brother of County Commissioner John L. Dunlap, of this place. He will aid them in getting located.

Frank Bartley Married.

Frank P. Bartley, the Bellefonte liveryman, surprised his friends on Wednesday of last week by taking unto himself a bride in the person of Miss Flode Helen Clements, of Jacksonville. He drove down to the home of Calvin Harter, at Jacksonville, where he procured his prospective bride and then drove over to Howard, where Rev. W. W. Rhoades, of the Evangelical church, performed the ceremony. The bride is a young lady who is well known in this community, while the groom is one of the most active business men in Bellefonte. Their many friends extends congratulations.

JOHN HOWLEY DEAD.

One of the Oldest Residents of Bellefonte Passed Away.

John Howley, another of Bellefonte's veteran citizens has dropped by the wayside of life. Death came Monday at 2.30 o'clock at his home on Bishop Street. He was 76 years of age and for the last year had been suffering from the hardening of the glands of his throat, which finally rendered him speechless. For twenty years or more he had been the able and courteous janitor of the Bellefonte Catholic church, but about the middle of December was compelled to give up the position which he liked so well. Six weeks ago he took to his bed never to rise again.

Mr. Howley was born in Ireland but when a comparatively young man came to America, landing in Wilmington, Del. He worked for the DuPont Power Co., for a while and afterwards emigrated to Centre County with the Daley and Pearl families. He found employment at the axe works at Axe Mann. At that time the only railroad in the county was the Bellefonte and Snow Shoe road. Passengers and freight were either brought to Bellefonte by stage from Lewistown or by the canal from Philadelphia.

When the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad, Bellefonte Central and the Nittany Valley railroads were built Mr. Howley was one of the foremen. He knew how to build a bed of a railroad so it would stay and for this he was highly complimented. After the railroads had all been built he began contracting in Bellefonte, and many of the cellars of the homes here were excavated by him. In the early days of the town he contracted for digging the ditches in which the water and gas pipes were placed. Later Mr. Howley was given the janitorship of the Catholic church and that took up much of his time. He, at one time, was elected to Council and made quite an efficient member.

The deceased was kind hearted and always stood willing to do a favor for anybody in need. For years he lived an upright, christian life, being a member of the Catholic church. About one year and a half ago he and his good wife, who survives him, celebrated their golden wedding. It was attended by a large number of friends who greatly enjoyed the occasion.

Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: William, Thomas, Ella and Mrs. Harry Taylor, all of Bellefonte. The funeral took place Wednesday morning from the Catholic church.

Death on Spring Creek.

Ralph Bertram, aged 16 years, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bertram, died Sunday night at 11.15 o'clock at the Bertram home, on Spring Creek, a short distance from Bellefonte. On Thanksgiving day he contracted inflammatory rheumatism which remained with him until the close of his life. He was a promising young man and the sad affliction has caused much sorrow in the family. His sister, Miss Mary Bertram, and grand-mother, Mrs. Joseph Beezer, were visiting the Beezer brothers at Seattle, Washington, and when it became apparent that the young man was going to die he expressed a wish that he might see them. On receiving a telegram from the boy's father Miss Bertram and her grandmother started east but arrived in Bellefonte just eight hours after he had passed away. Thomas Bertram, the father of the deceased, is an engineer on the P. R. R., between Altoona and Pittsburg. Surviving also are his mother and sisters and brothers. The funeral took place today from the Catholic Church, of which the deceased was a member.

Mrs. Thomas Murray Dead.

Sunday morning Sarah T., wife of Thomas Murray, died at her home at Snow Shoe Intersection. About ten o'clock she was walking from the kitchen into the dining room when she fell over dead from heart disease. Up until that time she had been enjoying the best of health, and her numerous friends and acquaintances will regret to hear of her sudden demise. Only two weeks ago she returned to her home from Altoona where she had a pleasant visit with her son, Clinton G. Murray. She was 57 years of age, and for many years had been a faithful member of the United Evangelical church. In addition to her husband, four sons and two daughters survive, as follows: Mrs. D. W. Hipple, of Warrensville; G. G. Murray, of Altoona; Mrs. Harry A. Parks, Mrs. A. Long and Peter G. Murray, of Snow Shoe Intersection; Miss Edna E., at home. One grandson also survives at the family home. The funeral took place at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning. Interment at Snow Shoe Intersection.

Passed Away at Johnstown.

Mrs. Sarah J. Pringle, widow of Engineer Daniel J. Pringle, who lost his life by the blowing up of a locomotive boiler at Mineral Point, in 1902, died suddenly on Saturday, last, from acute indigestion and heart trouble. She was born at Wilmore, October 8, 1854, and was a member of the United Brethren church. She is survived by four children and one brother, John Woleslagle, of Altoona. She was a cousin of J. C. Stere and Mrs. Dora Fisher, of Unionville. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in the Headrick's cemetery, near Johnstown.

Makes the most nutritious food and the most dainty and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

No fussing or fretting over the biscuit-making. Royal is the aid to many a cook's success.

Royal Cook Book—800 Receipts—Free. Send Name and Address.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Death at Winburne.

Miles Gates, who until recently, lived near Unionville, died Friday night, about 6 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Wood, at Winburne, the result of pneumonia, from which he had been ill only nine days. The deceased was born in Union Township, Centre County, where practically all his life was spent. It was only a short time ago that he went to Winburne to make his home with his daughter. His age was 66 years, 11 months and 17 days. His wife preceded him to the grave, and only a daughter, Mrs. Wood, of Winburne, and a brother and sister, Joseph Gates and Mrs. Cook Jones, of Philipsburg survive. The remains were taken to Philipsburg on Sunday for interment.

Mrs. Coll. Gehret Dead.

Mrs. Samuel Collins Gehret died early Monday morning, last, at her late home in Pittsburg. She had been in poor health for a number of years. The body was brought to Bellefonte on Tuesday night and interment made here yesterday morning. Deceased was the wife of "Col." Gehret, at one time a resident of Bellefonte and a brother of Harry Gehret, who is employed in the grocery store of R. S. Brouse. The funeral was held from the brother's home, the services being conducted by Rev. Dr Thomas S. Wilcox. Surviving Mrs. Gehret are her husband and one son.

Died at Clearfield.

Mrs. George Smith, sister of County Commissioner, Jacob Woodring, died at Clearfield on Tuesday morning at the age of 68 years. For years she had been a member of the Presbyterian church and lived a sincere, Christian life. Her husband died about two years ago. Surviving are four children: John and Albert, at home, and Mrs. Maude Mitchell and Mrs. Nancy Miller, whose husbands are prominent attorneys of Clearfield. The funeral will take place at Clearfield this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENY & Co., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c. cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

FOR SALE—In order to close out a business, I offer a $300 printing and rubber stamp and stereotyping outfit, with auxiliaries, for only $65. The press alone cost $105 and is good as new, and so is the rubber stamp machine and stereotyping machine. Write to A. H. Correll, Bloomsburg, Pa.

Bellefonte Markets.

Corrected by the John Meese store.

Eggs, per dozen	.18
Butter, per pound	.28
Lard, per pound	.14
Tallow, per pound	.05
Potatoes, per bushel	.40
Onions, yellow, per bushel	.75

Bellefonte Grain Market.

Corrected by Gamble, Gheen & Co.

Wheat, white or mixed	.80
Wheat, red	.85
Corn, shelled (per bu.)	.50
Corn, ears, (per bu.)	.50
Oats, (per bu.)	.35
Rye, (per bu.)	.65
Barley, (per bu.)	.60
Buckwheat, (per bu.)	.50

Marriage Licenses.

Register Earle C. Tuten has issued the following marriage licenses in the last week:

Franklin P. Bartley, Flode Ellen Clements,	Bellefonte "
Thomas A. Rishel, Louise F. Gessner,	Bellefonte Spring Township
Harry D. Singer, Lena V. Crotzer,	Howard Orviston
Walter Kahler, Viola Pritchard,	Philipsburg "
Lewis Pletcher, Amber Neff,	Curtin "
John Sychta, Anna Sarki,	Rush Township "

Read "The Republican" $1 a year.

Penny-A-Word Column.

FOR SALE—Three good horses and three sets double harness. Inquire of Thomas Beaver, Bellefonte, Pa.

FOR RENT—A double office in Exchange Building; steam heated; rent reasonable. Inquire of F. W. Crider, Bellefonte, Pa.

FOR SALE—An Erie motor cycle, in first class condition. Inquire of Garbrick Brothers, opposite the Big Spring, Bellefonte, Pa. 1-29-3

MALE HELP WANTED—Men under 35; Mail Service; I. S. S. 356 Iowa Avenue, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. 2-9-6t.

FOR SALE—One cow; was fresh December 20, 1910. Inquire of Philip R. Rupp, Box 97, Pine Grove Mills, Pa. 2-9-tf-x.

FOR SALE—A team of good working mules; quiet and nice to handle. Inquire of Adam Smith, on W. P. Humes farm, near Bellefonte 1-29-2t.

Hereford Cattle—A few choice young Herefords, of each sex, for sale; breed from Registered Stock. Owen Underwood & Sons, Fleming, Pa.

Sewing Machines Repaired—C. S. Clements, West Bishop Street, Brown's Corner, repairs all makes of sewing machines. Repairs for all machines. Call on Commercial phone. 12-22-12

OREGON—Information Bureau. Strictly reliable data on Timber, Mines, Farms, Fruit-land, Government land, or Investments. Inclose 50¢. H. F. Young, Grants Pass, Oregon.

Farm for Sale or Rent—Known a the A. C. Iddings farm, in Milesburg, twenty-three acres; good barn and house; several hundred apple and peach trees, bearing fruit; land in good condition; prefer to sell, but will rent; possession at any time. J. W. PLETCHER, Bigham Street, 1-26-8p Pittsburg

Real Estate for Sale.

Double house and lot of the estate of Catherine Haupt, late of Bellefonte Borough, deceased, situate on South Allegheny Street. Inquire of

G. F. MUSSER, Admr.,
Bellefonte, Pa.
or
2-9-3t. W. HARRISON WALKER,
Attorney.

Sale.

FOR SALE—March 3rd, at the residence of D. L. Meek, at Waddle Station, Patton township, horses, young cattle, sheep, and other farm animals; also all kinds of farm machinery and utensils, wagons, etc., all in the best of order and of the latest and most improved patterns. Sale will begin promptly at 9.30 a. m.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The County at a Glance.

Howard.

Burdine Butler, Sr., transacted business at the county seat on Monday.

Milton Gardner, of Altoona spent several days at his home here last week.

Balser Weber has returned to Philadelphia to continue treatment for his rheumatism.

Prof. George Robb, of Altoona, was called to the bedside of his mother last week.

Miss Alice Pletcher returned to Philadelphia on Sunday to resume her trade as a milliner.

Mrs. Wm. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooke and daughter were visitors in Bellefonte on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yearick, of Philadelphia, are spending some time with their parents here.

Mrs. Thomas Thomas returned home last week from a visit with her son, Weber, in Camden, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McClintic, of Atlantic City, spent several days with Mrs. McClintic's mother, Mrs. S. H. Bennison, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuman Williams and sons, Harold and Robert, of Eagleville, spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Williams.

A goodly representation of our citizens and also from the surrounding townships paid a visit to the good roads train during its stop here last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Snyder, of New York, a representative of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company, called on station agent W. L. Cooke and the Howard Handle & Spoke Company last week.

George F. Hoy, Boyd Carner and W. B. Heckman, all of Hublersburg, left on Monday for Stowell, Texas, to take a view of the country and with prospects of getting homesteads for a colony.

Word was received here last week that W. P. Mahaffey, of Clearfield, formerly of Howard, had received the appointment as postmaster in the Senate chamber a Harrisburg. Mr. Mahaffey is a veteran of the civil war and is fully qualified to fill the position to which he has been appointed.

One of the most beautiful of sunsets was witnessed by many of our residents last Friday evening. The sky was filled with fog that had a golden hue, then shortly after sunset the whole thing turned a beautiful shade of purple and commanded the admiration of all who witnessed it.

The fourth literary meeting of the High School will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening in the school building. The debate will be in the hands of the under classes. Remember a collection is taken at each meeting and is applied to the library fund. Each meeting of this society is growing in interest and it is only after one has entered his after life that he realizes the benefit of these literary meetings when he or she learned to "think on his or her feet."

A number of ladies of the Beech Creek Methodist church came to Howard last Wednesday on the noon train and spent the remainder of the day with their pastor, Rev. Rollin S. Taylor, and his wife. The good ladies had provided an abundance of provisions for the dinner to be served at the parsonage, and the day proved a most delightful one to the company. They returned to their homes on the evening train. Among the party were noticed the following: Mesdames W. Bullock, C. E. Bullock, W. C. Forcey, H. L. McCloskey, George Rupert, Carpenter Miller, Lindsay, W. Lindsay, Miller, Winslow, Swartz, Shoemaker, and Miss Rachel Forcey.

A birthday surprise was held for Mrs. Alonza Henderson on Thuraday evening last, every one having a delightful time and enjoying every feature of the gathering. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Marius Miner, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Confer, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Yearick, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Confer, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henderson, Mrs. M. Weaver, Mrs. H. C. Holter, Miss Edna Strunk, Mrs. W. I. Harvey, John Turner, Miss Nettie Swartz, Misses Anne, Nelle and Mabel Confer, Miss Arvilla Gardner; Miss Mary W[illegible]ick, Miss Rebeccah Lucas, Horace Schenck, Fred Pletcher, Marie Confer Marion Cooke, Pearl Confer, Walter Hensyl and Malcolm Confer and Miss Lovan Henderson.

The Sproul road bill by which it is proposed to build state roads connecting the county seats provides that the road connecting Bellefonte and Lock Haven shall pass through Bald Eagle valley and would result in something that is very much needed and greatly desired by the residents along the highway leading to the county seats. The road through Nittany valley between Bellefonte and Lock Haven is in a good condition and the author of this bill had the right idea in placing the new road through Bald Eagle valley. This system of roadmaking would meet with a more popular approval than the much-talked-of Philadelphia to Pittsburg state highway. Such a road through Howard borough and township would fill a long-felt want.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bald Eagle Telephone Company was held here last Tuesday and the following directors for one year were elected: Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte; Dr. Walter J. Kurtz, of Howard; I. Albert Bitner, of Blanchard; Charles W. Cook, of Beech Creek; and Wm. A. Batschlet, of Liberty township. The reports read show that this company is in a very satisfactory condition in every respect, which is very gratifying to the stockholders. The company is in charge of good men and the future is encouraging for the company. Among the others who attended the meeting were Manager H. W. Smith, of Bellefonte; Edward Beckdel, Wm. H. Austin and Irvin Wagner, Blanchard; N. H. Yearick, Nittany; Mrs. Eliza Leathers and Miss Cora Leathers, Mt. Eagle.

A reception given in honor of the class of 1911 in the school building last Friday evening was quite successful and proved to be an evening of delightful enjoyment to the 150 persons present. The entertainment consisted of recitation, by George Long, Lawrence Faust, Jennie Fetzer, and Helene Weber; a duet by Elfreida and Florence Confer, who sprang a very timely joke on some of the scholars; two dialogues entitled "The Train to Soontown" and "At the Photographers," which greatly pleased the audience and elicited continual applause during the course of their action; singing by the school and closed with speeches by Rev. E. F. Faust and John A. Woodward. After this a delightful supper was served, which consisted of sandwiches, pickles, bananas, ice cream and cake. Among those of the alumni present from other places were Samuel Schenck, of Altoona; Flora Pletcher, of Bald Eagle; Lulu Schenck, Joseph Muffly and Lauretta Weber, of Lock Haven normal; Charles Robb, of Waddle; Asbury Pletcher, of Centre Hall; Mrs. Stanley Bergen, Coal Centre, Pa.

Pine Grove Mills.

Mother earth is again robed in white.

Mrs. J. D. Dreibelbis visited her parental home, on Main Street, on Saturday.

Squire Potter, of Linden Hall, spent Friday at the G. B. Campbell home, at Fairbrook.

Mrs. Annie Miller is visiting State College friends, planning to remain over next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Mallery, of Altoona, spent Wednesday with friends in Linden Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weaver and little Mildred Eveline spent Saturday at the McFry home.

Harry Shugerts was down from Altoona last week, making a business trip through the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Osman, of State College, were welcome visitors at Grandpa Smith's home over Sunday.

Rev. S. J. Pittinger is conducting a well attended protracted meeting in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. J. O. McCracken, with his son, Joseph, was a visitor at the McCracken home, in the Glades, last week.

Mrs. David C. Dennis is ill, suffiering a stroke of paralysis. Owing to her advanced age but little hope is held out for her recovery.

That famons old bird, the stork, was busy last week, leaving a nice little daughter at the home of Charles Shusley and also one at the Charles Colobine home.

Our community was well represented at Bellefonte on Monday to consult a specialist. In the party were G. W. O'Bryan, J. F. Sasserman, J. N. Everts, J. W. Sunday and Elmer E. Royer.

N. E. Hess, E. C. Musser, Hiram Thompson. W. H. Goss, J. D. and N. O. Dreibelbis and Captain W. H. Fry were among those to attend the good roads meeting in Bellefonte on Thursday.

Oscar Bowersox last week moved from Greensburg to his home at state College. His crippled hand is not yet well, but he will more than keep the wolf from the door by renting rooms and taking in boarders.

John Rudy spent last week at the home of his father, Frank Rudy, only to find the home in ashes. The flames started in an upper floor and had gained such headway when discovered that nothing could be saved. All of the contents, including meats, clothing, etc., were destroyed. There was no insurance, making the affair all the more distressing.

Citizens and scholars of the Branch school were all a-buzz on Thursday morning. Just as school was dismissed the teacher was arrested and taken before a State College magistrate on the charge of alleged cruelty, where the case was dismissed and the prosecutor directed to pay the costs. It was a very just verdict. Unruly boys have no more claim than other scholars and must obey the rules.

A valentine party was given on Tuesday evening at the home of E. C. Musser, on the Branch, their daughter, Miss Lillian, most delightfully entertaining a number of friends. The senior members of the High School were guests of honor. The parlors were beautifully decorated for the occasion, presenting a pretty and attractive appearance. The evening was enjoyably spent with games and music. A sumptuous repast was served by Miss Lillian and her accomplished mother, who are noted for their splendid entertainments. Several recitations were well rendered by members of the High School.

The High School entertainment, in the I. O. O. F. hall, on Friday evening, last, was the greatest social success of the season. The recitations and declamations were well rendered and the program, in general, was especially good. Miss Mary Ward presided at the organ and acquitted herself with much credit. Professor White, in a brief talk, told of the progress of the school especially the senior class, expressing the belief that his efforts in their behalf had not been in vain. On April 10 he will convene his summer session. Special stress will be paid to fitting teachers to take up their duties. Foster Musser had charge of the program and delivered the address of welcome. Supper was called at 10 P. M., three hundred covers being laid and all taken. Just how well those present fared may be judged from the fact that there was served 18 gallons of ice cream, 12 gallons of oysters, 40 big cakes and all the numerous side dishes that one finds at such a supper. It was 1 o'clock in the morning when the hall was cleared for the dance. George Reed played the gike and the youngsters had a grand time till the weesma hours in the morning.

Blanchard.

Frederick Elliott, a student at the Bellefonte Academy, spent Sunday with friends here.

To commemorate the birth of Washington, a largely attended service was held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, last. The George Harleman Post, No. 302, G. A. R., Blanchard Lodge No. 427, I. O. O. F., Washington Camp, No. 385, P. O. S. of A., and the Improved Order of Red Men attended the service in a body, each order marching to the church. Rev. Dr. Alexander D. Bateman preached, his subject being, "The Life and Character of George Washington." Patriotic hymns were sung during the service.

Unionville.

We are glad to note that Martin Hogan is improving.

Miss Annie Rich, formerly of this place, is visiting friends here.

Farmers institute was held here yesterday and continues over today.

Boyd Stere returned home on Saturday evening for a few days' visit with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carter, of Lock Haven, are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. J. B. Stere.

Mrs. Laura Bricker, of Boalsburg, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. William McEwen.

J. C. Stere departed on Tuesday for Connemaugh, where he attended the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. Daniel Pringle.

Mrs. William McEwen, who has been confined to her home with a bealing in her head, is able to be about again, we are glad to note.

Miss Iona Gill came home from Altoona to see her father, Joseph Gill. Some days Mr. Gill seems to be better, and other days he is not so well.

The new windows for the Methodist Episcopal church have been received and will be put into place this week. They will greatly improve the general appearance of the church.

George, the 9-years-old son of William Baurder, met with a very serious accident on Wednesday afternoon of last week. While coasting down the hill, between Charles Eckenroth's and B. W. Shipley's, he saw the mail carrier, Chatman Underwood, crossing the road with his wagon and made a quick turn to keep from running into him. The quick turn of the sled threw the young man off onto the hard snow, breaking both bones in his right arm at the wrist and causing some very painful bruises about the body. Dr. Irwin was called and he immediately reduced the fracture. Latest reports are that the unfortunate young man is resting comfortably and getting along as well as could be expected.

On Wednesday evening of last week, as the writer was wending his way home from the toil of the day, he was thinking that another milestone was almost passed and that he was one year older. While his thoughts were on this subject it did not occur to him to be on guard for some clever trick on the part of his good wife. When he entered his home, my, what a surprise awaited him. The house was filled with good friends and neighbors who had gathered in honor of his thirtieth birthday anniversary. Although completely surprised and somewhat shocked, the writer soon regained his wits and lost senses and was able to participate in what proved to be a most delightful occasion. Miss Henshie and Miss Laura Rumberger rendered several fine musical selections. There were some splendid songs by Howard Peters, Miss Pauline Smith, Mrs. F. A. Holderman and Miss Eloise Buck, after which refreshments were served. H. M. Miles and I. J. Stere, head cooks, prepared the finest coffee and tea ever tasted. Three large tables were completely dismantled of their heavy burden, thirty-seven persons partaking of the good things to eat. But say, talk about your potato salid. Fifteen different kinds were served. Howard M. said that he never knew potatoes were so plentiful. Along about midnight, after many jokes, much laughter and even more potato salid, my good friends said goodnight to my family and myself, all wishing that I might enjoy many more equally happy birthdays. The following were present: J. C. Stere and wife, J. B. Stere and wife, H. E. Holtzworth and wife, F. A. Holderman and wife, Mrs. John P. Harris and daughter, Mrs. Joseph Brugger and daughter, Misses Sue Shipley, Mary Shipley, Alice Henshie, Annie Rich, Laura Rumberger, Pauline Smith, Katherine Smith, Minnie Witherite, Eloise Buck, Bessie Lonsberry, Marie Griest, Harriett Turner, Mary Turner, Ella Fink, Mrs. Nick Carter, Dr. W. U. Irwin, Howard Peters, I. J. Stere, Raymond Snook.

Milesburg.

William Osmer, of Chicago, was in town a few days last week.

Miss Elizabeth Orris, of Bellwood, spent Sunday at her home here.

Frank Campbell, operator for the P. & E. R. R., visited his home over Sunday.

Mrs. Taylor Sliker has returned home after spending some time in Williamsport.

Miss Mary E. Flack, of Bellefonte, was the guest of Miss Hilda Bloom over Sunday.

John and Harry Whitmer have returned to Hicks Run, where they are employed.

Miss Ida Baird, of this place, left on Friday for Tyrone, where she expects to remain for some time.

P. H. Haupt has purchased a shop for his tinning business and expects to move into it as soon as it is completed.

Wilbur and Edgar Miles, who are attending Dickinson seminary, at Williamsport, spent Sunday at their home here.

James Grassmeyer, of Philippine fame, was a visitor to his home here last week, spending the time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grassmeyer.

Benjamin Aikey, below town, has started a dairy. He will run a wagon daily and anybody wanting good, fresh milk will do well to consult with "Ben."

It isn't often that one sees such a staunch Republican as T. M. Gramley, of Spring Mills, and such a stiff Democrat as ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungart, of Centre Hall, traveling about arm in arm, and right on the eve of a campaign, at that. Nevertheless, that is the manner in which they entered "The Republican" office yesterday, dropping in for a little social chat. Mr. Brungart was in town for the dinner of the ex-sheriffs and Mr. Gramley stopped over while waiting for the evening train down the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. Both are regular readers of "The Republican" and while here Mr. Gramley advanced his subscription to January, 1912. If we can keep Brungart reading "The Republican" a little bit longer there will be one more Republican voter in Centre County.

Mt. Eagle.

The handle factory is running on full time.

Miss Pearl Gates, who is teaching at Juniata, arrived home on Friday evening and remained over Sunday with her mother, on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hileman, of Pleasant Valley, near Altoona, spent Sunday with the latter's sister, Mrs. J. R. Pheasant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Braumbaugh and son, Jacob, of Altoona, also were guests at the same time. Mrs. Braumbaugh is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pheasant.

George Brown, formerly a Mt. Eagle boy, but now a Pennsylvania Railroad telegraph operator at Greensburg, spent Sunday with old friends in town.

The railroad company this week had several men making some improvements to the switch here.

Ex-Sheriffs Banquet.

A most unique feature in the line of banquets was that given in Bellefonte last night at the Haag House, on Bishop Street, of which Henry Kline is the genial landlord. It was given by the ex-Sheriffs and ex-deputy sheriffs, of Centre County. Mr. Kline gave them a magnificent feast, good enough for "Teddy" Roosevelt. Col. H. S. Taylor, chairman of the committee of arrangements, was successful in getting together many of the ex-county Sheriffs and ex-deputy sheriffs, all of whom had a good time in bringing up reminiscences of official life.

List of Sheriffs in rotation as elected and served in Centre Co. to wit:

D. W. Woodring from 1869 to 1872.
B. F. Shafer from 1872 to 1876.
T. J. Dunkle from 1882 to 1885.
W. Miles Walker from 1885 to 1888.
Robert Cook from 1888 to 1891.
W. A. Ishler from 1891 to 1894.
John P. Condo from 1894 to 1897.
W. M. Cronister from 1897 to 1900.
Cyrus Brungart from 1900 to 1903.
H. S. Taylor from 1903 to 1906.
Henry Kline from 1906 to 1909.
W. E. Hurley from 1909 to 1912.

List of Deputies serving during these years:

H. Y. Stitzer from 1863 to 1866.
D. W. Woodring from 1866 to 1869.
L. A. Schaeffer from 1872 to 1876.
L. T. Munson from 1876 to 1879.
Reuben Spangler from 1879 to 1882.
David Dunkle & W. D. Dukeman from 1882 to 1885.
W. D. Dukeman from 1885 to 1888.
Robert Wilson from 1888 to 1891.
G. W. Crawford from 1891 to 1894.
C. A. Weaver from 1894 to 1897.
Harry Jackson from 1897 to 1906.
W. F. Reese from 1906 to 1909.
J. B. Strohm, Harry Goss & W. F. Reese from 1909 to 1912.

Married in Kansas.

On Tuesday evening of last week William Speer, son of E. M. Speer, of Hoxie, Kansas, was married to Miss Hazel Gallogly. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Newton Cavens, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Miss Drucilla Speer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Walter Crofoot was best man. The groom is a grandson of the late W. T. Speer, of Bellefonte, and is a very energetic young man. The bride is a young lady of the highest type. She is a fine musician and for several years was the leader in the Presbyterian church choir. They will make their home at Bushnell, Neb., where Mr. Speer has an excellent position with the Foster Lumber Co.

Found Some Money.

Isaac Mitchell, of the Bellefonte Trust Conipany, has received a letter from Oliver Braden, 1018 Callowhill Street, Philadelphia, stating that he had been in Bellefonte several days ago and that while here he found a certain sum of money. Mr. Braden desired it to be known that he would be very glad to return the money to the rightful owner upon proper identification. Otherwise, he said, he will keep the money. Mr. Mitchell is endeavoring to learn who lost the money, especially since the owner may be in such circumstances that the loss would result in hardship.

Firemen Get Their Money.

Bellefonte Council, at a meeting held on Monday night, passed bills including an appropriation of $250 each to the Logan and Undine fire companies. This is the usual annual appropriation for each company. Borough Solicitor J. Thomas Mitchell filed with Council a statement showing collections and expenditures by him, including with it a check for a small balance in favor of the borough.

Long Boycott Ended.

A noted boycott case between the Bucks Stove & Range Company and the American Federation of Labor was ended in the United States Supreme Court on Monday, last. The appeal of the company to the higher court was dismissed. This, however, does not affect the pending case of contempt against President Gompers and other officers of the federation.

Notice in Bankruptcy.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE MIDDLE DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

In the matter of EDWIN PRICE IRVIN, Bankrupt. } No 1844 in Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Edwin Price Irvin of Bellefonte, Centre County and District aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of February A. D. 1911, the said Edwin Price Irvin was duly adjudicated a bankrupt; and that the first meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of the undersigned, Referee, in the Borough of Bellefonte, on Saturday, the 4th day of March, A.D. 1911, at 10 o'clock A.M., at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Bellefonte, Pa. HENRY C. QUIGLEY,
February 22, 1911. Referee in Bankruptcy.
W. Harrison Walker, Esq.,
Attorney for Bankrupt.

FREE! FREE!

While they last we are giving free with each package of a beautiful Art Picture--See it in our Show Window.

"Pompeian Massage Cream"

This Massage Cream is highly recommended to clear the complexion, is used by both men and women as soap is used by both, but Pompeian cleanses, refreshes, improves and invigorates the skin as soap cannot do.

In jars at 50c, 75c and $100.

You can get it at

GREEN'S PHARMACY CO.

The Rexall Store

BELLEFONTE - PA.

Miss Margaret Stewart is the guest of friends in Philipsburg.

Pure olive oil, 25c, 50c and $1 the bottle—at Green's.

Read "The Republican" $1 a year.

DREER'S SEEDS are reliable

Used by successful amateurs and market gardeners for over 72 years. Our GARDEN BOOK tells how to grow vegetables and flowers and is profusely illustrated with colored plates and photo-engravings. A valuable guide to all who plant. Write, or call for a copy. FREE

HENRY A. DREER
714 Chestnut St. Philadelphia

Concrete Sidewalks

Greatly add to the appearance and enhance the value of a property.

Our practical experience enables us to give you first-class work in this line.

Rhoads & Knisely,
CONTRACTORS IN STONE AND CONCRETE WORK
BELLEFONTE, - - - - PA.

Body braces that were $2, selling for $1, at Green's.

The Typewriter Without Frills

A plain, simple, compact, mechanically perfect writing machine, without any trouble making "frills."

The Royal Standard $65

Phone me and you will have one in your place on examination, at once.

Terms and Allowances.

R. L. MALLORY,
Crider's Exchange,
Bellefonte, Pa.
care of Mallory Studio.

Horses and Horsemen are strong in their preference for 5A Horse Blankets and 5A Lap Robes. They well know that the famous 5A leads all others in warmth and wear.

Ask for 5A.

We Sell Them

JAMES SCHOFIELD,
Spring street Bellefonte, Pa

There is only one soap that can be compared with Ivory Soap, and that is genuine, unadulterated, white Castile Soap.

Very little of it is sold in this country.

The so-called "Castile" soap sold by the majority of drug stores is not "Castile" Soap at all; it is a cheap and inferior imitation of a meritorious article.

Ivory Soap . . 99 44/100 Per Cent. Pure

The Gargoyle Bedstead

It Was a Valuable Heirloom.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Flora, here is a letter from Chesley, your Uncle William's lawyer, and he has inclosed a copy of the will."

"Did he leave it to me?"

"Of course he did. Don't be foolish, my dear. Listen:

"I, William Gray, being of sound mind, etc., do give and bequeath to my grandniece, Isabel Gray, her heirs and assigns forever, my Sheraton sideboard and the sum of $2,000; to my grandniece, Flora Gray Winchester, her heirs and assigns, the mahogany bedstead which stands in my own chamber and which is known as the Gargoyle bedstead, together with the sum of $1,000."

"Where shall we put it, Harry?" interrupted Mrs. Winchester breathlessly.

"Put it? You don't expect to get it into this flat?"

"We must have it here. I wouldn't examine it there with Isabel looking on, and, besides, it is such a journey down to Richmond. Anyway you cannot spare the time to go down now, and we must examine it together. I want to get it here as soon as possible. Who knows but Isabel or some of the others might find the diary of Nancy Gray and learn the secret? My inheritance would be worthless!" Mrs. Winchester's voice trembled.

"Oh, all right," said Winchester tractably. "But how the deuce you expect to get it in here I don't quite see. It's a very large piece of furniture, isn't it?"

"Now, Harry dear," she cried, with one plump hand over his lips, "that bed must be gotten into this flat somehow! First, I will finish my letter to Mr. Chesley and let Norah post it at once. I can hardly wait to see the bedstead, Harry, and I don't dare dream of what will be ours when the secret of the bedstead is disclosed. Do you think, dear, I was wrong not to tell Uncle William about the diary of Nancy Gray I found in the garret?"

"Well, truthfully speaking, I'm afraid it wasn't treating the old gentleman quite on the square."

Two weeks afterward, while Mr. Winchester was engaged in a most important business transaction, he was summoned to the telephone.

"Yes, this is Winchester. What? Oh, the bedstead there? I can't possibly leave at present—I can't help it—tell them to send it up tomorrow—I know it's important—d—— the bedstead! No, I didn't speak. Yes, I will come home early. Goodby!"

When he reached the Etruscan apartments that evening Winchester was fortified with a box of candy and a huge bunch of violets. He stepped to the elevator and pressed the button. A faint tinkle responded from some depth below.

Presently the janitor emerged from an obscure doorway and surveyed him with an unpleasant eye.

"It ain't a-runnin'," he said gruffly.

"Poor management," commented Winchester as he prepared to conquer the eight flights that barred him from home and dinner.

"Huh!" exploded the man. "What with the freight elevator outer order and people breakin' windows movin' in big stuff and them chumps a-tryin' to put the feet board in my passenger car and a-tearin' a lady's dress and her the landlord's sister-in-law"— He glared wrathfully at the vanishing form of Winchester.

Opening the door of his apartment, rampant disorder met his eye. A huge, dark form almost covered the floor of the tiny parlor, which in its chaotic disturbance looked strangely unfamiliar to the master of the house.

In the library Flora reclined on a couch before the bright gas log, while sympathetic Norah applied wet cloths to her mistress' aching head. Wreckage from the parlor impeded progress at every step.

"My dear girl!" he uttered.

She turned a woebegone face to his. "Such a time as they had trying to get it in the window! They were saucy because the window was too small, and one of them pulled it in with a jerk, and it struck the chandelier—the pieces of glass fell on my Wedgwood vase, and that is broken! I—I am quite discouraged!"

With a restless glance toward the parlor, where the gigantic bedstead lay like some dark shadow on his little home, and with an unpleasant recollection of the snorting janitor below stairs and of the generous tip it would require to reduce him to his customary state of patronizing familiarity, Winchester endeavored to soothe his wife's shattered nerves, and together they obeyed Norah's summons to a belated dinner.

At table Mrs. Winchester drew a folded paper from her gown.

"This is the page I copied from the diary of Nancy Gray, Harry," she said, spreading it open before her. "I thought I would refresh my memory as to the exact location of the secret spring.

"'Richmond, Va., April 21, 1864,'" read Mrs. Winchester in solemn accents. "'I am greatly alarmed for the safety of Grandmother Binpah's diamonds, and have vainly tried to find a hiding place for them. The Yankees are digging up every inch of ground on the adjacent plantations searching for buried treasure, and I am quite at a loss to find a safe place for our heirlooms.

"'April 22.—Such an excellent idea! I have just recollected that there is a secret hiding place in Grandmother Binpah's mahogany bedstead. I will conceal the jewels there and will describe their hiding place so that in case anything happens to me one of our family may be able to recover them, even if the bedstead should be carried away.

"'First, one must observe the row of hideously grinning faces—"gargoyles," grandfather called them—that outline the top of the headboard; there are twenty-five of these gargoyles in all, and one must press the right eye of the thirteenth gargoyle from either end, when the face will swing outward, disclosing a cavity. Into this cavity I have dropped the leather bag containing the unset gems—they are worth many thousands of dollars—and I hope to recover them when the war is over.'"

Armed with hammer and screwdriver, husband and wife repaired to the parlor and locked themselves within, greatly to the disgust of the interested Norah, who availed herself of the keyhole as the only salve to her wounded self respect.

"My dear girl, how do you think I'm going to handle this thing alone? It weighs a ton! Why wasn't it put in the guest room?"

"The instant I saw it in the wagon I knew it would never fit into that room, so I told them to put it in here. We can remove it to the cellar afterward—or store it."

"It fits in here," remarked Winchester.

"Let us rip off the covering—I believe I know just where to place my finger on the spring! This is the headboard, of course, and here are the gargoyles!" cried Flora excitedly.

Winchester took out his knife and leisurely opened the blade. He lifted one corner of the bedstead, groaned and dropped it heavily.

There was a straining and snapping of cords as he applied his knife to the wrappings.

"Oh! Oh! I am just as nervous as I can be," cried Flora, regardless of her husband's groan as he dragged aside the covering and disclosed the rounded, polished top outlined by a semicircle of hidiously carved faces.

"Jove, what a beaut!" ejaculated Winchester, yet with a note of respect in his tone. "What a nightmare! Fancy wishing a guest 'pleasant dreams' and then introducing him to that couch! Whew! Now, which face, Flora, love?"

Mrs. Winchester triumphantly produced the paper from her laces and read solemnly: "'The thirteenth gargoyle from either end.'"

"The one in the middle, of course," announced Winchester.

"'Press the right eye,'" quoted Mrs. Winchester breathlessly. "I shall have them set in a glorious pendant, Harry!"

They hung expectantly over the bed.

"Now press!" she whispered sibilantly.

Winchester pressed.

"Nothing doing," he announced flatly.

"Press harder," urged his wife. "The secret spring has probably rusted. They do rust sometimes, don't they?"

"I never heard of one doing so. They always yield easily, and the door rolls noiselessly aside and leaves an aperture," said Winchester grimly.

"We must get it open!" cried his wife tearfully. "Try some of the other eyes, Harry."

"But why try the others, my dear? It says the middle one."

"There is—there must be a spring!" retorted Mrs. Winchester. "Why should Nancy have put it in her diary if there was not?"

"I give it up when you ask me to explain the vagaries of the female mind"— began Winchester as he viciously jabbed the eyes of all the gargoyles in turn without result.

Flora burst into tears.

"Don't cry, my darling," comforted her husband tenderly. "I'll find out the truth if I have to chop the confounded thing into kindlings!

"I wish I understood the meaning of it anyway," said Winchester presently when his wife had reached a degree of tranquillity where she could nibble a bonbon appreciatively.

Again the tears flowed. "I might just as well have had another thousand dollars!" wailed Flora.

Winchester's elbow knocked a small package from the table to the floor.

"What is this?" he asked, picking it up.

"An express parcel that came this afternoon. I haven't had time to look at it."

He ripped off the covers and looked stupidly at a small leather volume in his hand.

"The Diary of Nancy Gray!" he exclaimed. A letter fell from the book, and he opened it eagerly.

"Read it!" commanded Flora impatiently. And he read as follows:

"My dear Mrs. Winchester—Your uncle, the late Mr. William Gray, has placed this little volume in my hands with instructions to turn it over to you after his death. Of course you are aware that your uncle wrote this fantastical little tale for his own amusement many years ago, but it was never published. You are probably in a position to recognize that your uncle's clever wit enabled him to take great liberties with your family history. As the present owner of the Gargoyle bedstead, this little book will prove to be of especial interest to you. Congratulating you on the possession of such a valuable antique, and with kind regards, I am, very sincerely yours,

"JEREMIAH CHESLEY."

The long silence was broken at last by a suppressed chuckle from Mr. Winchester.

His wife buried her face in the sofa pillows. "Brute!" she sobbed bitterly. And Winchester is still wondering whom she meant.

On the Edge of a Precipice

A Woman Is Saved From a False Step.

By MARGARET BARR.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

No one could understand why it was that Helen Ayer, the wife of an excellent man and the mother of a lovely boy six years old, fell under the influence of Schuyler Quigley, with nothing except swagger and cheek to recommend him. When Quigley first began to pay attention to Mrs. Ayer her husband did not appear to notice it. The truth is he saw that his wife was drifting away from him and he dared not oppose her, fearing that by his very opposition he might bring about a catastrophe. If he permitted the matter to work itself out perhaps the wife and mother would in time tire of her new fancy and realize the danger to herself, her husband and her son.

But Quigley was so aggressive, so persistent, that Helen never got away from a certain dominating force there was about him long enough to recover herself. Finally Ayer decided to take action. Since they all belonged to the same set he had frequent opportunity to meet the man who was undermining his home. Their first meeting was at the house of a mutual friend, where a number of men were accustomed to play poker. Ayer's object was to begin a series of attempts to force a quarrel upon Quigley, concealing the true cause. The better to cover his motive at the poker party he met Quigley cordially. But during the game he suddenly arose from the table, declaring that he would not play with a cheat, making it plain that Quigley was the man referred to.

Quigley, who was perfectly innocent of the charge, retorted. High words followed, and Ayer struck him. Quigley was prevented from returning the blow by the others, who protested against the men fighting under the host's roof about a matter of cheating at cards, thereby bringing a scandal upon the house and the party.

This left Quigley not only under a disgraceful charge, but as having received a blow from Ayer that he had not returned. Under the regime of half a century or more ago, he would have been obliged to challenge Ayer or be cut by his friends. Living in the twentieth century, he was not obliged to do anything. He let the matter drop. He did not call at Ayer's house any more, but he met Mrs. Ayer when she went out on the street and at the houses of mutual friends. All he said to her about his trouble with her husband was that Ayer had accused him of cheating at cards and that every member of the party present had exonorated him of the charge.

And so it was that Russell Ayer by trying to get rid of the man who was really his wife's worst enemy, and at the same time protect her good name, only made himself appear to her a very unjust and ignoble person. She thought that she was taking care of her reputation by never being with Quigley, except when others were present. But she found it difficult to live with one man as his wife and have a love affair—though devoid of criminality with another.

Ayer followed up his first attack on Quigley by telling a number of Quigley's friends that he (Ayer) had struck him and Quigley had not had the manliness to resent the blow.

The situation was not pleasing to any one of the three persons involved. Quigley represented to Mrs. Ayer that he was refraining from resenting her husband's insults on her account and begged her to vindicate him by securing a divorce and marrying him. She was distressed, feeling that this was due Quigley, but dreading to take a step that would seperate her from her husband and her child.

One day Ayer met Quigley on the street. Each was walking with a friend. As they passed Ayer said loud enough for Quigley and his companion to hear:

"There goes a coward I am trying to make fight."

This was too much for Quigley, who turned and said, "Well, we'll have it out now."

"Very well," replied Ayer, "draw."

Taking a revolver from his pocket he raised it, cocking it at the same time. But since Quigley was unarmed there was no fight.

"You can't escape me with a bloody nose," said Ayer. "It's life or death between us."

And he walked on.

Quigley began to feel that he could no longer brook these insults. Some of his friends were telling him that Ayer was determined in the matter, and it might better be settled sooner than later. They advised him to challenge Ayer and have it over with. All supposed that the origin of the matter was at the card table. Indeed, few if any knew that Ayer was trying to force his enemy to withdraw his influence from Mrs. Ayer. Quigley blustered for awhile, but took no action. But finally noticing a difference in the cordiality with which his friends greeted him he gave in and sent Ayer a challenge.

Ayer accepted, naming revolvers at ten paces, every chamber to be emptied before the firing ceased.

This staggered Quigley, for it meant death probably to both of the parties. He sent a message to Ayer asking what he could do to avert the issue. Ayer replied in a sealed note telling him that he must neither speak nor write to Mrs. Ayer again. Quigley replied that Mrs. Ayer had applied for a divorce and had consented to marry him as soon as it was obtained. To this Ayer replied that on his part the affair would be dropped. But he did not do this till he had looked into the court records and found that his wife had the day before applied for a separation.

When Ayer went home that evening he found his wife gone. His little boy asked him what was the matter with mamma. She had cried and kissed him all the morning, then had gone out and hadn't come back. Wouldn't papa go and bring her back?

But day after day, week after week, month after month, passed and mamma did not return. She was residing in a city where divorce is made easy. The child was obliged to content himself with his nurse during the day, but whenever his father was not at his office he supplied so far as possible the place of the mother. Quigley still lived in the city, but there was not as much swagger in him as formerly. Somehow no one seemed to think he had come out of his affair with Ayer with credit, and his friends were dropping off.

While it was known to the Ayers' intimate friends that Helen was suing for a divorce, it was not known that she was doing so in order to marry Quigley. Divorces usually make it appear that great wrongs are committed by one or both parties. We are horrified at tales of cruelty, desertion, all kinds of inhumanities. While reading of them we would suppose that after such suffering neither party will ever again consent to wear the chains of wedlock. But once the bond is broken up pops a man or a woman hitherto unknown in the proceedings, and the decree is scarcely granted before the wedding bells are ringing.

Helen Ayer had secured her divorce, had returned, and it was supposed by her friends, except an intimate few, that she would remain—after the charges against Ayer her lawyer had drawn up for her—an unmarried woman. While this was the supposition, a marriage license was being taken out permitting Helen Ayer and Schuyler Quigley to wed. They were to be privately married at 5 o'clock in the evening and take a 7 o'clock train for their wedding trip.

During the afternoon the bride to be was seized with an irresistible desire to see her boy once more before taking the irretrievable step. She knew that her husband was usually at his office at the time and she would not meet him. Throwing caution to the winds, she called a carriage, alighted near her former home, entered and ran upstairs to find her son.

She came upon a melancholy sight. Her boy was lying on a bed, pale and wan, while his father was bending over him.

"Oh, why didn't you tell me? Why didn't you send for me?" she wailed. And without waiting for a reply she bent down, passionately encircled the child with her arms and hugged him to her breast. Then, flinging her hat and coat aside, she knelt beside the bed.

"Oh, mamma!" cried the child. "How glad I am that you have come back!" Then, raising his arms, he placed them about her shoulders. "And you're never, never going away again, are you?"

And the woman for whom a groom was waiting said:

"Never, so help me heaven!"

Russell Ayer was walking away when his wife seized his hand and held him. She attempted to speak to him, but not finding words turned again to the boy. Then Russell knelt beside her and, resting his hand on her waist, the two turned the ebbing life back into their child by their united presence.

An hour later Schuyler Quigley, as he was about to enter a carriage to take him to a church where he was to meet his bride, was startled by a message. Tearing off the cover with misgivings and impatience, he read:

I cannot go. I will never see you again.

One of those singular and unaccountable infatuations under which a woman will leave home, husband and children, wrecking them, and most of all herself, had come to a sudden end, as it were, on the brink of the precipice over which she was about to plunge. Her husband could manage the man who was enticing her, but he could not manage her. What neither of these men could do was accomplished by a sick child.

After the boy came out of danger Russell Ayer told his wife of his attempts to save her. He gave the reason for his accusing Quigley of cheating at cards, the blow, the subsequent insults, the forcing his enemy into an unwilling challenge. Then when he had finished by telling her that he had dropped the matter on learning of her intended separation she shuddered.

"My God! How could I have done it?"

Maple in the Days of Old.

Scarcely any wood was considered more valuable in the "days of old" than maple wood, tables constructed from a mottled variety being particularly favored. Such a table, according to Evelyn, was Cicero's, costing 10,000 sesterces—about £62. Another was estimated at £875, and yet another, belonging to one of the Ptolemies, is said to have been sold for its weight in gold. There was, in fact, such a craze for tables of the rarest maple among the male sex in Rome and so wildly extravagant were they in this respect that when they reproached their wives for lavishness in pearls and other valuables the ladies would remind them of their costly maple hobby, thus "turning the tables on them;" hence the phrase. Virgil represents Evander, who was a provincial king, as receiving Aeneas seated on a maple throne. Chaucer speaks of the maple as forming a bower for the fair Rosamond. In Evelyn's time the wood of the maple was much esteemed for all kinds of turnery.—Westminster Gazette.

Galilei's Caustic Humor.

In a biography of Galilei some stories are told of the caustic humor of that bold investigator. Lotario Sarsi, a writer on science, having said that the Babylonians used to cook eggs by whirling them in a sling, Galilei replied: "The cause of such an effect is very remote from that to which it is attributed, and to find the true cause I shall reason thus: If an effect does not follow with us which followed with others at another time it is because in our experiments something is wanting which was the cause of the former success, and if only one thing is wanting to us that one thing is the true cause. Now we have eggs and slings and strong men to whirl them, and yet they will not become cooked; nay, if they were hot at first they more quickly become cold, and since nothing is wanting to us but to be Babylonians it follows that being Babylonians is the true cause why the eggs became cooked and not to the friction of the air, which is what I wish to prove."

She Didn't Mind.

A girl with a Gibson face and a green feather in her hat boarded a Chestnut street car the other afternoon. She carried something in a paper sack under her arm. The car was crowded with passengers, and no one offered to rise.

The girl looked worried, but set her lips and grabbed at a strap. Just then the car lurched, the girl made a wild effort to keep on her feet and threw her bundle straight in a large man's lap. There was a peculiar grinding sound in the sack, and then something seeped out that looked suspiciously like the yellow of an egg.

"What in the thunder is this stuff?" he started to say, when she sweetly remarked as she clung to the strap:

"Oh, never mind making apologies. I can get another dozen of eggs at our grocery."

The conductor removed the sack of eggs, and the man looked so savage that no one dared laugh.—Louisville Times.

Bringing Her Round.

Bingo (tiptoeing into his wife's room, in a whisper)—I've brought three friends home to dinner unexpectedly.

Mrs. Bingo (aghast)—What!

Bingo—Yes, I have. They're down stairs.

Mrs. Bingo—You wretch!

Bingo—Now, my dear, I couldn't get out of it.

Mrs. Bingo (haughtily)—Then you'll have to take the consequences.

Bingo—But—

Mrs. Bingo—You'll have to put up with practically nothing.

Bingo—That's what I told them.

Mrs. Bingo—You did?

Bingo—Yes. I told them that they needn't expect a single thing; that we'd scrape round in the kitchen if necessary and pick up whatever we could and that, as I hadn't let you know, that was the best we could do.

Mrs. Bingo—What did you tell them that for?

Bingo—It's the truth, isn't it?

Mrs. Bingo—Certainly not. As if it makes any difference to me how many friends you bring home! I'll show you!—London Tit-Bits.

FROM THE TROPICS TO HEAL US.

Cedron Seed Plant.

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article.

This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

A Weekly Birthday.

Dr. Marks, who for many years was head of St. John's college, Rangoon, which the young Burmese princes attended, once granted a day's holiday because it was Queen Victoria's birthday. The king asked Dr. Marks what he meant by it. On hearing the explanation he said graciously, "That's all right, but will you give them a holiday on my birthday?"

Dr. Marks said he certainly would if his majesty would inform him what was the day on which the world was blessed by his birth.

"According to Burmese national custom," said the king, "my birthday is every Tuesday!"

The Pepper Vine.

The most common and widely used of all spices is pepper. It is a native of the East Indies, but is now cultivated in various parts of the tropical belt of this hemisphere. The plant is a climber and has a smooth stem sometimes twelve feet long. The fruit is about the size of a pea and when ripe is of a bright red color. In cultivation the plant is supported by poles. In some localities small trees are used instead of poles, for the best pepper is grown in a certain degree of shade.

The Gentle Art.

"I adore intelligence!" she cried.

"So do I," said he. "All the same, though, beauty and intellect never go together."

"And do you think me intellectual?" she faltered.

"No," he confessed frankly.

With a faint blush she murmured, "Flatterer!"—Los Angeles Examiner.

Light on Ma.

Little Brother—Mr. Poseyboy, won't you go and stand before the window? Poseyboy—Certainly, my little man. But why? Little Brother—Oh, ma says she can see through you. I want to see if I can.

A Big Difference.

"Don't be unscrupulous in a small way, son."

"All right, dad."

"There's a big difference between watering milk and stocks."—Washington Herald.

Woman.

Woman has been defined as "an essay on goodness and grace in one volume, elegantly bound." But she doesn't like to be put on the shelf all the same.

Fire in the heart sends smoke in the head.—German Proverb.

The Gordian Knot.

The famous Gordian knot was made of leather taken from some part of the harness belonging to the chariot of Gordius, king of Phrygia. It seems that this knot was so tied that the ends of the leather thong were not visible, hence the difficulty in loosening it. Many must have tried to untie it, for its fame as a "sticker" at last reached the great oracle, which declared that the lucky experimenter should be rewarded by the kingship of Persia. Alexander, trying his hand and meeting with no better success than the others, drew his sword and cut into the knot until he found the ends of it.

DO IT NOW

Get our prices on lumber, frames, lath, sash, doors, shingles, flooring, moulding

PAROID ROOFING

Or anything else you need in the building line. You can have our forty-two years experience free and buy what what you want at bottom prices. Anticipating an advance in prices of

SOUTHERN LUMBER

And Pacific Coast Red Cedar Shingles, we bought a large stock and will sell at the present low prices while they last. Odd lots of moulding, sash and lumber at specially low prices.

P. B. CRIDER & SON.

Office Yard and Mill at La mb st. Bridge, Bellefonte, P a

"GOOD ROADS" SPECIAL STIRS UP SUPERVISORS

Pennsylvania Railroad Instruction Train Warmly Welcomed.

MEET IN COURT HOUSE

General Beaver Presides Over Gathering Largely Attended by Supervisors and Others From all Parts of the County.

On Thursday, of last week, shortly after 12 o'clock, the Good Roads train, conducted joinly by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., and the Pennsylvania State College and the State Highway Department, arrived in Bellefonte. To the engine were attached six cars, equipped with everythiug necessary to show to the public the most practical way to build substantial roads. The train was in charge of Dean John Price Jackson, of State College, and he can feel highly flattered on the large number of road supervisors and farmers in general who took enough interest in the subject to come to Bellefonte for the purpose of seeing and hearing the most improved methods of making the highways of Centre County among the best in the State.

The crowd was not only large but everybody seemed enthusiastic to see and find out all that was transpiring. Even our friend John Blachard, Esq., local attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., became interested enough to get on the cafe car, where he partook of an elaborate dinner, after which he began to show the spectators what he knew about building roads. He knew more about the subject than you would imagine.

Two of the flat cars were loaded with machinery. They were of the most modern type, consisting of a metal road scraper, the King split-log drag and a high power stone crusher and screening machine. There was also a large concrete road roller, the kind that every township should own. It is inexpensive and there is no question but that it would be of inestimable service, for the solid packing of a road means much toward its endurance. The other machiney exhibited is also what is really needed in the making of highways, that will be lasting and durable. A crusher and screener is also something that every township should have, if it is possible.

One car was fitted up as a lecture car. It was so arranged that it could be darkened for showing stereopticon views, this contributing an interesting feature to the train. This car is used at stations along the route where time does not permit going into a hall in a town, although in larger towns a public hall is preferable.

Perhaps the most interesting and practical feature of the train was the car fitted up with specimens of the different types of roads, suitable for various kinds of soil. The models were so plain that even "The wayfaring man, though a fool," could get some idea of how a good road should be built. As the old saying goes, "It was almost as clear as the nose on a man's face." The supervisor who studied those models of roads could not help but be the wiser, and if he puts the information given to practical use every farmer in Centre county will be benefitted. Of course there were some things that might be impracticable for this county but all the information given was valuable to road builders.

For instance, on a piece of road a miniature steam roller was working. It was kept in operation with electric batteries, and was a practical demonstration that a thoroughly rolled road is preferably the best. Without it there is not much use in making the road, especially if the supervisor wants it to last any great length of time. A road made with layers of different sizes of limestone and covered with fine screenings and then tightly rolled with water, or better still, asphaltum binding, is the way to make a road that will give value received for the money expended.

Along the side of this car were pictures showing the good and bad roads in this and other states. These, of course, were interesting to the man who was really looking for information along this line. The other cars were for the use of the crew and the instructors on the train. The dining car was provided with everything that would appease the epicurean tastes of those who accompanied the train.

At 1.30 o'clock a large public meeting was held in the Court House. The fact that nearly every seat was occupied was sufficient reason to believe that people of old Centre county are awakening to what is fast becoming one of the foremost issues of the day.

General James A. Beaver presided and gave a very interesting introductory talk along this line. He said, in part, that through this train they were trying to take State College to the people instead of the people going to State College. He showed the importance of the "good roads movement" making practical applications to our own county. He indorsed the Sproul movement by which the State proposes using the income from a $50,000,000 bond issue for road purposes. The General lays claim to attaching his name, as Governor, to the first road bill passed by the Legislature. While occupying the gubernatoria chair one of the attaches of the Executive Department came in from a ride on his bicycle and complained of bad roads. Then it was that Governor Beaver got busy and it was not long before he had a good road bill before him to sign. Since that time he has been a strong supporter of good roads and all improvements along this line. Before closing he made many valuable suggestions with reference to good road building.

Prof. Jackson had been scheduled to make an address, but on this occasion he asked to be excused and give his time to Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard, who years ago made the road question a thorough study. In introducing him General Beaver referred to the beautiful and valuable sorrel mare once driven by Mr. Woodward, who, on taking the floor, stated that perhaps one of the reasons he sold the sorrel was that he was too valuable a horse to drive on the poor roads, such as they were at that time. In extending his remarks he stated that the railroads do nothing but a transportation business, and the better the condition of the track the cheaper they can carry the traffic, thus the more money they make. That is, it lessens the amount of coal consumed by the engine that draws the train. In making the camparison, he said the same was true as to the farmer who hauls his produce to the railroad. The better the roads the less it costs to get what he raises to the market. The engineer throws coal into the fire box to make it go. The better the railroad is kept the less fuel it will take. So, on the same principle, the farmer feeds his horses, and the better the roads the less feed it will take to keep them in good condition. This is good logic and should appeal to every farmer in Centre County. The farmer saves a a big percent on the wear and tear of his vehicles and machinery in hauling them over good roads. Mr. Woodward was in favor of the King road-drag wherever it can be used. He made many other suggestions worthy of adoption.

Before introducing D. H. Winslow, superintendent of the United States Agricultural Bureau, General Beaver said the horse knew a good road from a bad one and therefore for his special benefit the roads should be kept in the best of condition. He said he owns a horse that is so intelligent that he knows when he has the old or new harness on. When Mrs. Beaver is in the carriage behind him, the horse always holds his head high and walks off like a two-year-old, but when he has the old harness on and has the old buggy behind him, with the General in it, he goes along like a snail. So good roads are very acceptable to animals as well as men.

Mr. Winslow is a practical road builder and by the aid of stereopticon views he showed the difference between good and bad roads and demonstrated how the best roads could be made at a small expense, especially by using the King drag.

The next speaker was J. V. Haas, of the Road Department at Harrisburg. He also used the stereopticon views to illustrate the making of a good road. He showed how concrete bridges and concrete culverts were taking the place of wooden structures. Concrete costs a little more in the beginning but is much cheaper in the end. Everything of this kind, he said, should be put in solidly and substantially. One of the most valuable points made by Mr. Haas was the fact that the Road Department, at Harrisburg, will send free of charge an engineer to any part of the State to do the engineering for the building or repairing of a road bridge. This is something not generally known but is very important to road supervisors and it should be a step toward encouraging the building of the very best highways throughout the state. With his address the meeting closed, the belief being expressed that it had stimulated in this county a desire for greater progress in good roads work.

"Paid in Full."

The wonderful record of this popular play by Eugene Walter, will be maintained when it makes its appearance here at the Garman Opera House, Friday Feb. 24. The fact that it will be interpreted by a great New York cast will no doubt be a great inducement for our local theatre patrons to attend. Prices 25c. to $1.00

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Regulets, and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they will need. Regulets bring easy, regular passages of the bowels.

Want Him Back.

The return of Rev. W. P. Shriner, D. D., a minister well known in Bellefonte has been unanimously asked by the official board of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, Lock Haven, which he has served as pastor for three years. The congregation will make a big effort to have him return.

A New Church.

Philipsburg is to have a new Protestant Episcopal church, at a cost of $30,000. It will be of native stone and work will begin soon as possible.

Everybody's friends—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Cures toothache, earache, sore throat. Heals cuts, bruises, scalds. Stops any pain.

Try Welch's grape juice—at Green's.

Real Estate Transfers.

Recorder William H. Brown has recorded the following real estate transfers in the last week:

Hamill Holmes, et ux, to Hiram Thompson, January 28, 1911, tract land in State College; $4,000.

William Laurie executors to Isaac Miller, June 1, 1909, tract land in Bellefonte, $600.

Moses Thompson executors to George B. Thompson, February 4, 1911, tract land in Patton township; $10,000.

L. F. Calderwood et ux to J. P. Gates, April 14, 1919, tract land in South Philipsburg; $450.

F. W. Crider et ux to Joseph Sefrish, January 31, 1911, tract land in Snow Shoe township; $399 20.

Aaron W. Reese et ux to Annie Spotts, June 30, 1903, tract land in Port Matilda; $20.

Sarah E. Garis to Annie M. Brown, et al, January 30, 1911, tract land in State College; $6,000.

Thomas Foster et al to P. R. Auman, March 27, 1909, tract land in State College; $200.

J. A. Harper heirs to Mary A. Moerschbacher, February 7, 1911, tract land in Bellefonte; $1800.

Franklin Galbraith et ux to Mary G. Woodring, December 24, 1902, tract land in Bellefonte; $528.80.

John Gallo et ux to Mary Gallo, March 9, 1908, tract land in Rush township; $30.

Sarah A. Horner to Orvis L. Horner, January 4, 1911, tract land in Potter township; $5.

George B. Thompson et ux to John I. Thompson, February 4, 1911, tract land in Patton township; $5,000.

F. W. Crider et ux to Ira Harpster, August 15, 1910, tract land in Half-moon township; $611.

Ex-Treasurer Berry in Trouble.

The Farmers' Deposit National Bank, of Pittsburg, which secured judgment in Common Pleas Court No. 4 of Allegheny for $16,058.50 against ex-State Treasurer William H. Berry, of Chester, has taken means to secure the amount. Several weeks ago the judgment was entered at Media. The suit was on the note of Berry's to James M. Guffey, which was purchased by the Farmers' Deposit National Bank. An attachment execution has been issued here against Berry and was given to Deputy Sheriff Thomas Robinson to serve on Thursday. The record reads;

"Issue attachment of execution against William H. Berry, defendant, and indorse the same with direction to the sheriff to attach all and singular the goods and chattels, rights and credits, money and property of the defendant, in whose hands the same may be, and especially the hands of Robert Wetherill and Richard Wetherill copartners, trading as Robert Wetherill & in corporated, and to summon them as garnishes."

The Wetherills manufacture Berry's patent boiler and it is said that the attachment will be on the royalty which he receives. The note on which the judgment was secured was that of July 30, 1908. The local attorney for the Farmers' Deposit Bank is George B. Lindsay, of Chester.

Carnegie Donates Land.

State Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon, announced Saturday night that Andrew Carnegie had donated a second tract of land near Cresson to the Commonwealth for the use of the department.

The tract, which is a small one, is adjacent to the property which he conveyed to the state two years ago and upon which the State's Western Sanatorium for Tuberculosis is being built.

The sanatorium buildings at Cresson will be pushed to completion as soon as the winter is over and will enable an extension of the work which the State is doing for consumptive poor at Mont Alto.

Maine to Vote on Drink

Whether the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall continue under the constitution of the state of Maine is to be determined by the voters of the state at a special election next September. By a vote of 105 to 40, the House passed the Senate resolution re-submitting to popular vote the constitutionhl prohibitory amendment adopted in 1884.

As both branches have sanctioned the measure, all that remains is the signature of Gov. Plaisted, who was elected on a platform pledging re-submission.

Incendiaries Busy at Lewisburg.

Fire of incendiary origin destroyed a large house owned by Dr. Nettie Knepp. This is the fifth incendiary fire to occur at Lewisburg within a few months and the second time this building has been set on fire. Firemen report finding cotton waste soaked in oil and four turpentine cans in the hallway.

Dies at 108.

Mrs. Frances Esper, 108 years of age, said to be the oldest woman in Colorado, died in the arms of her 104-years-old husband Friday night from burns received when her clothing caught fire from an open grate. Mr. and Mrs. Esper had been married ninety-one years.

Are You Educated?

A professor in the University of Chicago told his pupils that he should consider them educated in the best sense of the word when they could say yes to every one of the fourteen questions that he should put to them. It may interest you to read the questions. Here they are:

Has education given you sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them?

Has it made you public spirited?

Has it made you a brother to the weak?

Have you learned how to make friends and keep them?

Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?

Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?

Do you see anything to love in a little child?

Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?

Can you be high minded and happy in the meanest drudgeries of life?

Do you think washing dishes and hoeing corn just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?

Are you good for anything to yourself.

Can you be happy alone?

Can you look out on the world and see anything except dollars and cents?

Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see the clear sky?

Can you see anything in the puddle but mud?

Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars?

Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator.

Electric Locomotives Ordered.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has ordered twenty electric locomotives, with an aggregate of 4000 horse power. The construction of the locomotives has been divided, so that the Juniata shops of the railroad company will build the frame running gears of the machines and the brake equipment and motors will come from Pittsburg. The Westinghouse Air Brake Company will supply the special air brakes.

Death of Samuel Vaughn

Samuel Vaughn, a well known resident of Sandy Ridge, who had been ailing for several months, died Wednesday, the result of a complication of diseases. The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vaughn, well known throughout this section. He was born September 4, 1855, making his age 55 years, 5 months and 11 days. The funeral took place Friday, last, interment at Osceola.—Philipsburg Journal.

An Iron Tip.

Teacher—Johnny, can you tell me how iron was first discovered?

Johnny—Yes, sir.

"Well, just tell the class what your information is on that point."

"I heard pa say yesterday that they smelt it."

Sarcastic.

"When reverses come you find out who your friends are."

"So."

"Yes. They immediately proclaim that they knew you were an accident."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Farsighted.

He—Why do you force me to wait for an answer? She (who is up in political economy)—Because I don't want to give you a monopoly until I find out whether there's any competition

He that comes unbidden will sit down unasked.—Irish Proverb

"Grey" and "Gray."

What is the difference, if any, between "grey" and "gray," aside from the matter of spelling?

The editor of the Oxford Dictionary some years ago made extended inquiry as to usage and found that opinions in London varied. Replies to his questions showed that in Great Britain the form grey is the more frequent in use, despite the authority of Dr. Johnson and later lexicographers, who give the preference to gray. Many correspondents said that they used the two forms with a difference of meaning or application, the distinction most generally recognized being that grey denotes a more delicate or lighter tint than gray. Others considered the difference to be that gray is a warmer color or that it has a mixture of red or brown. Another group held that grey has more of sentiment, gray more of color, which may mean that grey is a suggestion rather than a positive outline.—New York Press.

Kindness.

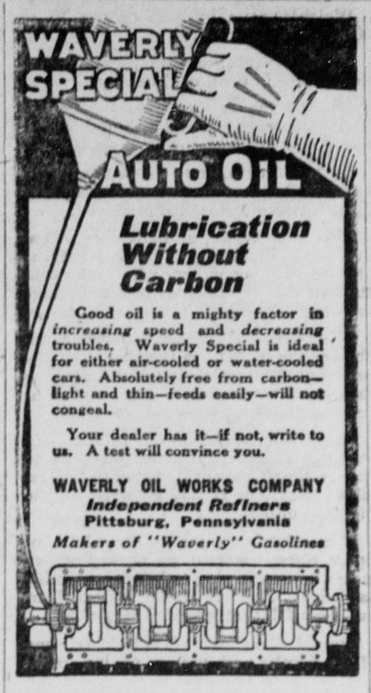
Kind looks, kind words, kind acts and warm handshakes, these are secondary means of grace when men are in trouble and are fighting their unseen battles. Dr. John Hall.

Hearing the Silence.

Little Phyllis was at a concert. The leader rapped, and the buzz of conversation ceased. "Oh, mamma," exclaimed Phyllis, "listen to the hush!"—Exchange.

There is always room for a man of force, and he makes room for many.—Emerson.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says, "It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me." No opiates, just a reliable household medicine. Sold by C. M. Parrish.



WAVERLY SPECIAL
AUTO OIL
Lubrication Without Carbon
Good oil is a mighty factor in increasing speed and decreasing troubles. Waverly Special is ideal for either air-cooled or water-cooled cars. Absolutely free from carbon—light and thin—feeds easily—will not congeal.
Your dealer has it—if not, write to us. A test will convince you.
WAVERLY OIL WORKS COMPANY
Independent Refiners
Pittsburg, Pennsylvania
Makers of "Waverly" Gasolines

BELLEFONTE CENTRAL RAILROAD. On and after Monday, Jan. 25th, 1909 trains will run as follows from the P. R. R. station.

TRAINS TO STATE COLLEGE.

	WESTWARD.	1 A. M.	3 A. M.	5 P. M
Lv.	Bellefonte	‡ 6.30	‡ 10.15	‡ 2.00
	Coleville	6.35	10.20	2.07
	Morris	f 6.38	.....	f 2.12
	Stevens	f 6.43	.....	f 2.17
	Hunters Park	f 6.46	.....	f 2.21
	Fillmore	f 6.50	f 10.34	f 2.26
	Briarly	f 6.55	.....	f 2.32
	Waddles	7.00	10.45	2.35
	Krumrine	f 7.12	.....	f 2.50
	State College	7.25	11.10	3.20
	Strubles	f 7.27	.....	.....
	Bloomsdorf	f 7.31	.....	.....
	Pine Grove Mills	7.35	.....	3.40

* Daily. ‡ Daily except Sunday. "f" Stop flag

TRAINS FROM STATE COLLEGE.

	EASTWARD	2 A. M.	4 A. M.
Lv.	Pine Grove Mills	7.35	.....	3.20
	Bloomsdorf	f 7.40	.....	.....
	Strubles	f 7.45	.....	f 3.30
	State College	8.00	11.50	5.00
	Krumrine	f 8.07	.....	f 5.07
	Waddles	8.20	12.10	f 5.20
	Briarly	f 8.24	.....	f 5.23
	Fillmore	f 8.28	12.18	f 5.30
	Hunters Park	f 8.31	.....	f 5.45
	Stevens	f 8.35	.....	f 5.47
	Morris	f 8.37	.....	f 5.45
	Coleville	8.40	12.30	5.50
Ar.	Bellefonte	8.50	12.50	46.0

Morning trains from Montandon, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with trains No. 3 and 5 for State College. Afternoon trains from Montandon Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone connect with train No. 5 for State College. Trains from State College connect with Penna. R. R. trains at Bellefonte to points east and west.

F. H. THOMAS, Supt.

Professional Cards.

Harry E. Fenlon,
FIRE INSURANCE.
Temple Court, Bellefonte, Pa.

A. A. Dale,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office East Hight St., first door above Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

H. C. Quigley,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Harry Keller,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Clement Dale,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office East High St., first door above Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

J. Thomas Mitchell,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Temple Court, South Allegheny St., Bellefonte, Pa.

Gettig, Bower & Zerby
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
Practice in all the courts, and collections promptly attended to. Office, Eagle Block. Bellefonte, Pa.

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

The Main Thing About
FIRE INSURANCE

Is carrying a sufficient amount to really protect your property for after a fire one can only accept the result.

Better see to it that you are fully insured and in a company celebrated for prompt payment of losses; a good reliable company the only kind represented by us.

Also represent The Preferred Accident Insurance company of New York, which issues $5,000 Travel Policy at $12.00 per year.

Harry E. Fenlon
Temple Court - - - Bellefonte, Pa.
Real Estate Bought and Sold,
RENTS COLLECTED.

Certainly You Want the Best Insurance
You can get for the money. Then see
John F. Gray & Son
for Fire, Accident, Health, Steam Boiler, Employers Liability and Plate Glass Insurance.
OFFICE
Crider's Stone Bl'dg
High Street,
BELLEFONTE, PA.

EDW. K. RHOADS
At his yard opposite the P. R. R. Passenger Station, sells only,
BEST QUALITIES
—(OF)—
ANTHRACITE and BITUMINOUS
COALS
Also, All Linds of Wood, Grain, Hay, Straw and Sand.
Superior Screenings for Lime Burning. Builders and Plasterers' Sand.
TELEPHONE CALLS:
Bell 1312
Commercial 422

PILES A cure guaranteed if you use RUDY'S PILE Suppository
D. Matt. Thompson, Supt. Graded Schools, Statesville, N. C., writes: "I can say they do all you claim for them." Dr. S. M. Devore, Raven Rock, W. Va., writes: "They give universal satisfaction." Dr. R. D. McGill, Clarksburg, Tenn., writes: "In a practice of 23 years, I have found no remedy to equal yours." Price, 50 Cents. Samples Free. Sold by Druggists. MARTIN RUDY, LANCASTER, PA.
SOLD IN BELLEFONTE BY C. M. PARISH
Call for Free Sample

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR BACKACHE, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

The First National Bank, Bellefonte

The aim of this bank is to build up business and to help see that it is done properly. What is worth doing is worth doing well. The officers freely advise customers at all times on financial matters. We have a separate room for women which we will be glad to have our friends from the country use. A few safe deposit boxes may still be had without cost.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
BELLEFONTE, PA.

Capital $100,000. Surplus $125,000.

☞Our Bank Almanacs for 1911 are ready. Ask for one when you come to bank or drop us a card and one will be mailed to you.

Here and There.

Welch's grape juice—at Green's.

Miss Mary H. Linn entertained at tea on Friday afternoon, last.

Mrs. George Bell, of Tyrone, was the guest of Bellefonte friends on Monday

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider departed yesterday for a brief visit to Atlantic City.

Isaac Thomas, Jr., of Bellefonte, is seriously ill at his home on Thomas Street.

Shem Spigelmyer, of Antis Fort, was a visitor in Bellefonte on Monday. He is always welcome.

Mrs. F. Potts Green entertained at dinner on Friday evening last, covers being laid for twelve.

Mrs. Sidney Krumrine, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with friends in Williamsport, her former home.

John I. Thompson, of Lemont, has been elected treasurer of the Pennsylvania State College, Vice John Hamilton resigned.

Secretary Buchannon, of the Y. M. C. A,, of State College, passed through Bellefonte on Monday on his way to New York City.

Miss Elizabeth Gephart gave a thimble party on Friday afternoon of last week, the honor guest being Miss Boyd, of Williamsport.

Robert Foster, of State College, passed through Bellefonte on his way to Philadelphia, where on Tuesday he attended a Democratic meeting.

A name quilt will be sold to the highest bidder in the Sunday school room of the United Evangelical church Thursday evening, February 23, 1911, at 8.30 o'clock.

Several extra men were put to work Monday at the Nittany Furnace. The managers desire to have it in shape for the boom in iron that is now predicted to be on the way.

Prof. S. C. Weber, of State College, left on Monday for Mobile, Ala., where he is attending the meeting of the National Educational Association Department Superintendents.

Henry S. Linn, of the China Hall, left Monday evening for Philadelphia to attend a meeting of the Society of Cincinnati. This is one of the most renowned and exclusive societies in the world.

The other day a judge in Washington, D. C., decided that a mother-in-law has no right in her son-in-law's house without permission. The trouble is with many of the mothers in-law in Bellefonte is that they carry their own permission with them.

William P. Humes entertained Bishop Joseph Berry, of Buffalo, N. Y., over Sunday. On Saturday evening Mr. Humes entertained at dinner in honor of Bishop Berry, the several guests being prominent in Methodist Episcopal church circles in Bellefonte.

Misses Theressa and Agnes Shields, of Bellefonte, attended some of the festivities connected with the celebrating of the 10th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus, at Altoona, this week. They attended the dance and card party on Wednesday evening.

Col. H. S. Taylor and wife, of Bellefonte, left yesterday for the Mardi Gras festivities at New Orleans. From New York City they left today on a specially conducted tour by the P. R. R. These vestivities are on the order of an old home week, only on a more elaborate scale.

Richard Taylor, who has charge of the soldier boys in the Huntingdon Reformatory, spent Sunday with his family in Bellefonte. "Dick," as he is best known here, is proving very satisfactory in the position of training the convicts to carry arms and shoot so that it will count.

Next Sunday, Feb. 26th, Rev. J. F. Hower, pastor of the local United Evangelical church, will preach his last sermon for the present conference year. This will end the third year of Rev. Hower's work in Bellefonte. The annual session of the Central Penna Conference will meet at York on March 2nd.

W. O. Dougherty, of Lemont, was a caller at our Sanctum on Saturday and greased the wheels of our machinery to the amount of $1,00. Mr. Dougherty is agent for the American Seeding Machine Co., of Springfield, Ohio, and just now is a very busy man. He understands the art of selling machinery, thus he has been very successful in the business.

Percy Knight, of the Inland China Mission, gave a Bible reading in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Knight is a pleasant speaker and his discourses are always interesting. His knowledge of the China mission field is very complete, and the stories he brings from the orient are very encouraging as to the advancement of Christianity.

On Sunday Harry Taylor, William Daley and Thomas Shaughnessy, of Bellefonte, were in Altoona attending the 10th anniversary of the order of Knights of Columbus. The Altoona Council entertained 400 members of the order from out of the city. One hundred members took the third and major degree of the order. The celebration ended Wednesday evening with a dance and card party.

D. F. Fortney, of Bellefonte, attended the annual State Convention of School Directers which was held in Altoona on Thursday. In the dicussion of the school code he argued althongh the time has come when our school laws should be codified, yet there a number of things in the new code which should not be there. He particularly opposed the establishment of a state board of education and recommended a number of other changes in the code.

On Friday evening Emanuel Noll, baggagemaster at the P. R. R. Station, Bellefonte, was in Altoona attending the annual exhibition of the industrial schools in that city, of which his son, John, is the aggressive superintendent. All the trades are successfully taught there, making it a bee-hive of industry. Besides this domestic economy is taught the girls, which means that these young ladies are being fitted to become good wives. Mr. Noll was very much gratified with the ability of his son to carry through such a large project that means so much to the young ladies and gentlemen of the railroad city.

Welch's grape juice in bottles, 10 to 50 cents—at Green's.

Wilson Ghaner, of Scotia, was a business visitor in town on Tuesday.

Miss Katherine McCoy, a compositor of this office, attended a reception given in Altoona on Saturday evening.

W. H. Austin, one of Blanchard's hustling Republicans, greeted friends in town between trains on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Rowe, of Bellefonte, went over to Philipsburg on Saturday to be present with her mother who underwent an operation on Tuesday in the Cottage hospital.

The Christian Endeavor sociable announced to be held in the chapel of the Bellefonte Reformed church this evening has been postponed until Tuesday evening of next week.

Harry Shultz, one of our valued subscribers at Curtin, has directed us to change the address of his paper to Coatesville , where he is now engaged in the big steel mills.

The other day Joseph Crandel, of Snow Shoe, started in pursuit of two men who were trying to kill a deer in his bailiwick. He have would landed them but for a fall that sprained his ankle.

Samuel Donachy, of Bellefonte, one of our regular and prompt paying readers, recently honored us by advancing his subscription another year. Sam. knows a good newspaper when he sees one.

William I. Swoope, Esq., of Clearfield, formerly of Bellefonte, has been elected the chairman of the Republican committee of Clearfield county. He takes the place of Chairman Forsythe, who resigned. Mr. Swoope will be a worthy successor.

A. C. Musser, of Altoona, formerly a clerk in what is now Olewine's hardware store, Bellefonte, was a guest at the Bush House over Monday evening. He left Tuesday morning for Centre Hall, where he inspected lumber for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Russell Kelley, of Altoona, is a guest in Bellefonte of his uncle, Charles McCoy, on Thomas Street. He belonged to Uncle Sam's big army and recently returned from Fort Yellowstone, Wy. He has been in the service five years, and during that time has seen much of the world.

Rev. Barry, pastor of the Bellefonte Lutheran church, hereby announces that on next Sunday morning at 10.45 o'clock the annual missionary service will be held. The Sunday School will take part in the exercises and the annual missionary offering will be lifted. Everybody is cordially invited.

A pleasant visitor at "The Republican" office a few days ago was C. E. Hartsock, of Stormstown. Mr, Hartsock sometime ago concluded to try "The Republican," He said that he had found it so satisfactory that he had just dropped into our office to advance his subscription. Come again, Mr. Hartsock.

Dr. E. S. Dorworth, father of the editor of "The Republican", was seventy-seven years old on Sunday. He spent the day surrounded by the several members of the family, with the exception of one son, William J., who is located in Greensboro, North Carolina, and who was unable to be home for the occasion.

Samuel B. Miller, who proved that it takes more than a fall from a hay wagon to end the days of a Civil war veteran, happened to be down in this end of town a few days ago and while here dropped into "The Republican" office and advanced his subscription to well toward the close of 1911. A little chat every now and then with Samuel B. is good for one's constitution.

On Tuesday morning Ira Longwell, the Buffalo Run butcher, left his team stand in front of W. B. Rankin's residence, on East Curtin Street, when they freightened and ran off. They went straight out the street to the pike at breakneck speed. While going down the hill, near Frank McCoy's residence, one of the horses fell. Fortunately the only damage done was to break the wagon tongue. For a few minutes meat was down.

Engineer Ed. Whitaker, one of the valued and trusted employes of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, grasps the throttle with renewed vigor these days. From the way his engine skims along one could easily tell that something of importance recently occurred in the Whitaker home. There is a new boy in town, and if young Mr. Whitaker grows up to be as good looking and as fine an engineer as his father, he will be a dandy.

G. Frank Sasserman, the well known barber, has concluded that he will make a dash for the Republican nomination for Register. He formally entered the field this week as will be seen by his announcement in another column of "The Republican." Frank is an active young Republican and has a host of friends. He enters the race for the nomination with the desire that the best man win, and that everybody should go to work for the nominee once the voters make known their decision at the primaries. This is the spirit that means party success.

Several years ago Martin Daley, of Runville, died and left his son, William Daley, of Bellefonte, his farm of 60 acres of land on which there is a splendid house, bank barn and other out-buildings. William Daley has been a cripple for a number of years, made so by meeting with an accident on the railroad. Both his legs were severed close to the thigh. His only motive power is by his hands and arms. Now Mr. Daley would like to convert that farm into cash to help him along. Don't haggle him down if you go to buy it, but rather give him a decent price for it. It will be the best investment you ever made if you give Mr. Daley a square deal in purchasing the farm.

Dr. Thomas C. VanTries' lecture in the High School auditorium on Thursday evening last brought together a large audience of the representative people of Bellefonte. His subject, "Matters Matrimonial, or Getting Married" was treated in a manner highly creditable to the lecturer and very entertaining and instructive to all who heard him. There was just enough spice in it to keep his hearers in good humor. The lecture abounded in useful information pertaining to this most important of all subjects, and great good can be done the more it is repeated. There was no admission but a silver collection lifted for the Bellefonte hospital amounted to about $36.

Liggett's chocolates, the finest made, 40c & 80c—at Green's.

Conard Wirth, of Altoona, was a guest at the Bush House on Monday.

Jolly Cyrus Hunter, of Stormstown, was a Bellefonte visitor yesterday.

Dr. Walter Kurtz, of Howard, was a pleasant visitor to Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Mrs. John M. Shugert will entertain on Saturday afternoon, from three to five.

Miss Marguerite Potter departed yesterday for Altoona, where she will visit with friends.

This week if you look at Montgomery & Co's ad you will surely find something that will interest you.

Miss Minnie Cherry, who had been visiting friends in Tyrone, has returned to her home in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Hammon Sechler was hostess at an afternoon party, on Tuesday, at her home on East Linn Street.

George E. Swartz and H. G. Brown, of Millheim, passed through Bellefonte Tuesday afternoon for Harrison, Ill.

On Tuesday evening the Bucknell basket ball team defeated the Bellefonte Academy team by a score of 52 to 15.

Rev. W. Percy Knight, of the China Island Mission, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gainfort, on Curtin Street, for several days this week.

Miss Helen Schaeffer entertained at cards on Wednesday evening, at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer, on Curtin Street.

Mrs. Thomas K. Morris and son, King, have returned to their home in Pittsburg, after a pleasant visit with her parents, Hon. and Mrs. P. Gray Meek.

We are indebted to S. M. Holter, of Somerset, for a neatly engraved check for $1, advancing his subscription to "The Republican" another year

Next Tuesday evening the Maccabess will hold a progressive 500 in their hall in the McClain block. All lovers of this game are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mensch, of Bellefonte, attended a dance in Altoona on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Shriners. It was quite a society affair.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Freeman and daughter, Miss Jeannette Freeman, of Tyrone, were Bellefonte visitors yesterday, at the home of another daughter, Mrs. H. N. Crider.

Dr. R. T. Weston, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., of Bellefonte transacted business in Philadelphia this week. We will have more to say about his visit in the near future.

Yesterday was not only the anniversary of George Washington's birthday but it was also the fortieth wedding anniversary of Squire and Mrs. William H. Musser. A special family dinner was served in honor of the occasion.

On next Sunday Bishop John W. Hamilton, D. D., L. L. D. will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist Episcopal church. He is recognized as one of the most learned men of the age. He should be greeted by large audiences.

Miss Onmatch and Miss Jennie Morgan were among the Bellefonters who went to Altoona on Tuesday afternoon. In the evening they went to see Sarah Barnhart, who appeared in one of the opera houses in that city, and were greatly delighted.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Mary Harris and John McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy, at 6 o'clock P. M., March 8, at the home of the prospective bride's mother, Mrs. Rachael Harris, on North Spring Street.

The Bellefonte chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was last night entertained at the home of the vice regent, Mrs. Ellis L. Orvis. The occasion was the annual fancy costume reception of the chapter. Many of the members were attired in costumes typical of Revolutionary times.

Misses Mary Hicklen and Alice Lowry, of Bellefonte, have returned to the Maryland College for Women, at Lutherville, near Baltimore. It will be remembered they came home about three weeks ago after the school building had been destroyed by fire. Arrangements have been made to accommodate the 100 students until the main building is rebuilt.

Lew Bullock's automobile yesterday frightened a horse, hitched to a buggy and standing in front of Montgomery & Company's store. The horse which was owned by Bruce Lingle, of Curtin, was unable to break loose, but made several dashes around the hitching post, badly wrecking the buggy. In the mixup the horse wrenched loose one of its hind shoes.

Mrs. Joseph Runkle, of Bellefonte, who had been quite ill at her parents home at Mahaffey, Clearfield County, arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday afternoon. She is still quite weak but is improving right along. She was able to walk from the train to the carriage with the aid of her husband. It is to be hoped that she will permanently recover.

The bowls for the Chemical Closet Company, of Bellefonte, are now being manufactured by Edward Sellers, of Oak Hall. The brass work that goes with the closets is being manufactured by J. Howard Lingle, of Bellefonte. The demand for these improved and sanitary closets will be so great one of these days that Mr. Sellers will be compelled to build an addition to his plant.

We were very glad yesterday to receive a letter from our old friend, Edmund P. Hayes, a Bellefonte boy who is showing the West how to grow up. When Edmund decided to locate in New Mexico we were directed to enter his name on our list of subscribers. The address we were furnished was "Neff, New Mexico." It turns out that the name of the post office where Edmund then received his mail was "Nutt, New Mexico". From this time on "The Republican will be mailed to him to Parral, Mexico, where Edmund is connected with the Veta Colorado Mining & Smelter Company. He says that he not only likes the work but also the country and people in that far distant land. In his letter to the editor of "The Republican" he asks to be remembered to all the boys in Bellefonte. Its a pleasure to us to do as he requests.

Gracemont, Okla., Aug 13th, 1909.

To Whom it May Concern:

I am just in receipt of a draft, number 36370 for Two Thousand Dollars ($2000.) in full payment of policy No. 28970, held by my late husband Arthur J. Duggan, issued Oct. 1st, 1908, by the Royal Union Mutual Life Ins. Co., of Des Moines, Iowa.

When Mr. Duggan applied for this insurance he executed his note for $72.80, being the first annual premium thereon, the note, however, remained unpaid at the time of his death, yet the Company came forward with full payment of the claim upon satisfactory proofs of death.

This should be conclusive evidence to any one that the management of the Royal Union Mutual Life Ins. Co., is absolutely fair in their dealings with their policy holders.

Respectfully,

Mrs. Maggie A. Duggan.

The Royal Union Mutual Life Insurance Co.,

DES MOINES, IOWA.

JAMES I. THOMPSON,

GENERAL AGENT,

LEMONT PENNA

NEW SPRING SUITS

of the finest makes are now coming in, and are already on exhibition.

NEW SPRING HATS

are here:

"KNOX"

"GUYER"

"MAXIM"

We will take pleasure in showing you the new styles.

Montgomery & Co.